18 Arrested for Civil Rights Slayings

Apportionment Illegal

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The present apportionment of the Minnesota Legislature was held invalid today by a panel of three federal judges.

But the judges said they would withhold further action until the 1965 legislative session has a chance to act on drawing new boundary lines for legislative districts.

The decision came in a suit brought by nine persons from the Twin Cities area, demanding that apportionment be made on a basis that will provide more legislators for heavily populated areas. The plaintiffs included Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., and State Sen. Richard Parish, opponents in the 1964 3rd District Congressional race.

In their ruling, the three judges said:

"We have every confidence that the Minnesota Legislature will fulfill its constitutional obligations and, at the forthcoming 1965 regular session, will enact appropriate reapportionment legislation."

The present apportionment is based on the 1950 census. It was enacted in 1959, the first reapportionment since 1913.

The decision was signed by U.S. District Judges Edward J. Devitt of St. Paul and Gunnar Nordbye of Minneapolis, and by Circuit Judge Harry Blackmun of Rochester.

The decision throws an extra burden on the 1965 legislative session, already faced with mountainous problems of financing for education, welfare and other state programs.

Already at work on the problem is a governor's reapportionment commission, headed by Franklin Rogers, Mankato newspaper editor.

The Minnesota constitution calls for reapportionment at the first legislative session after each federal census, but this had been ignored until the 1959 re-mapping. In general, rural areas oppose reapportionment because they would lose representatives and senators to more thickly populated areas, such as Twin Cities suburbs.

Defendants in the action were Secretary of State Joseph Donovan and county auditors of Ramsey, Hennepin, Anoka and Dakota counties.

Intervenor were State Sens. Donald Sinclair of Stephen and Rudolph Hanson of Albert Lea, and others, including the county auditors of Kittson, Marshall, Roseau, Pennington, Polk and Red Lake counties — all lightly populated areas of northwestern Minnesota.

The judges noted that present House districts range from a population of 56,076 in the 43rd north in Ramsey County to only 8,343 in the 67th District of Kittson County, a ratio of 7-to-1.

Senate districts range from the 30th in suburban Hennepin — twice as large as the statewide average — to the 38th in Minneapolis, less than half the average population of a Senate district.

In their directive to the Legislature, the judges said county lines might have to be less strictly respected in drawing new boundaries. The judges said new boundaries should be drawn "without gerrymandering."

Included was this warning:

"... If the legislature fails to fulfill its constitutional reapportionment duty at its 1965 regular session, then more direct judicial relief may become appropriate."

The court noted that Minnesota legislative lines have been re-drawn eight times since statehood, but that 46 years elapsed between the last two reapportionments.

The decision followed by several months the ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court holding that both houses of state legislatures be set up on a population basis — the so-called "one man, one vote" theory.

Role Beauty Played In Baker Case Asked

Ellen Rometsch
What's Her Role in Baker Case?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators investigating an alleged political payoff shift sights today to question a witness Republicans once wanted to ask about the role a German beauty played in the Bobby Baker case.

Paul Aguirre, who has business interests in Puerto Rico, was scheduled among the opening witnesses on what could be the windup day of this round of the Senate Rules Committee investigation.

In a minority report filed after the committee's first hearings into the outside business activities of Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, the Republican members said: "The minority unsuccessfully fought to have Mr. Paul Aguirre called as a witness."

"Aguirre could have been asked what part Ellen Rometsch, or other like individuals, had in the promotion of Baker's financial interests or dealings with government officials, government contracts, and others.

He could have been asked what interests Baker had, or sought to acquire for himself or others, in housing, gambling concessions, and other enterprises in the Caribbean area."

Mrs. Rometsch is the former wife of a soldier once attached to the West German Embassy here. She was a hostess in a luncheon club in which Baker was interested. She has returned to Europe.

Seven other witnesses were scheduled today, including Milton L. Hautt, who once made out income tax returns for Baker and Don B. Reynolds.

Reynolds has testified he was the "bag man" for Baker and Philadelphia contractor Matthew H. McCloskey in a deal to siphon $25,000 into the 1960 Democratic campaign fund from the McCloskey firm's contract to build the District of Columbia stadium.

McCloskey, former ambassador to Ireland and Democratic fund raiser, testified he knew nothing about such a deal.

Testimony Thursday was interrupted by a shouting match between Lennox P. McLendon, special committee counsel, and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del. Williams triggered this round of the Baker investigation by charging last September in a Senate speech there had been a political payoff.

After Thursday's flareup, Williams stalked out of the hearings and said he wouldn't be back.

Radicals Blamed In California

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — President Clark Kerr of the University of California, says the student Free Speech Movement's chaotic sit-in demonstration on campus Thursday amounted to "anarchy by a willful minority of radical students."

An army of police dragged rag-limp students out of the littered corridors of the administration building on the Berkeley campus, and hauled them to jails in buses. They arrested 81 persons.

The rebels seized Sproul Hall Wednesday night and refused to vacate despite a plea to disperse peacefully by campus Chancellor Edward Strong.

Mario Savio, 21, a philosophy major who moved to California from New York City, led the demonstrators in their demands for unrestricted freedom to recruit members and collect funds anywhere on campus for off-campus political activities.

"Seizure of the building had nothing to do with free speech, and the F.S.M. knew it," Kerr said.

"This protest has never been over free speech," he said. "There has been and is freedom of speech at the University of California. The protest has been over organizing political action on the campus. This has been granted within the limits of the law."

Some students released on bail made charges of police brutality. But law enforcement officers said the only injuries were those inevitable in the job of lifting, carrying and arresting limp or struggling bodies.

A group of faculty members asked Berkeley's presiding municipal judge, Rupert Crittenden, to release the arrested students on their own recognizance or to cut their bail to $25.

The students face one or all of several charges — unlawful assembly, trespassing and resisting arrest. Bail for most of them was set at about $300.

Car Breaks Through Ice, Woman Dies

DETROIT LAKES, Minn. (AP) — Mrs. Earl Shaw, 60, Detroit Lakes, drowned in Lake Melissa, six miles south of here Thursday night when the family car broke through an ice crack and sank in about 10 feet of water.

Shaw said the gap was covered with snow and he did not see it until the car had begun to sink. He shoved open the car's left door and stepped out, meanwhile shouting to his wife to do the same on her side of the machine.

But the car went down so abruptly, she apparently had no chance to escape, officers said. The mishap occurred as the Shaws were returning from their fish house on the lake. Skin divers recovered the woman's body about 10 p.m., three hours after the mishap.

Johnson to Present Medal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will present the first Medal of Honor awarded for bravery in South Viet Nam to Army Capt. Roger H. C. Donlon of Saugerties, N.Y., at a White House ceremony Saturday.

The White House announced Thursday that Donlon, 30, would be honored for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action at the risk of his life" during an attack by Communist Viet Cong guerrillas last July 6.

Boy Wins $2,500 From His Brother

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — An eight-year-old boy who sued his 19-year-old brother was awarded $2,500 in an order filed in Hennepin County District Court Thursday.

The court cut in half the original award, won by Michael Sabraski for being hit in the head by a horseshoe tossed by his brother, Edward Sabraski Jr. The incident occurred June 7, 1962, at the home of a neighbor.

An attorney said insurance was involved in the lawsuit. The suit originally named the owner of the property, Clarence Theis, as a defendant but this portion was dismissed.

Judge John T. Gernerult of Alitkin, Minn., who tried the case, said Michael's injuries did not justify the $5,000 award, and he ordered it cut in half.

Army, Air Force Reserves Facing Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the second time in two years, defense officials appear to be preparing for major surgery on military reserve forces.

Just what form that surgery will take is not yet clear. Studies have been under way in both the Air Force and the Army.

The service recommendations are awaited by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Santa All Year

Taffy Tuttle figures that "virus" is something discovered by a doctor who couldn't spell pneumonia. The average father plays Santa Claus all year 'round, but it's only at Christmas that he gets to dress up for the part. Apparently, what most children save up for a rainy day is excess energy. who will make the final decisions.

Indications point to possible heavy losses for the Army and Air Force Reserve, perhaps virtual elimination of the Reserve and its merger with the National Guard.

The aim of any new streamlining would be elimination of wasteful and cumbersome duplication and strengthening of the readiness of Reserve forces which cost about $2 billion a year to support.

Pentagon planners find it hard to understand why the Army and Air Force should maintain dual organizations — the Reserve and the National Guard — serving essentially the same purpose.

Little fault is found with the Marine Reserve whose 45,000 men would form a fourth Marine division and supporting air wing.

Officials claim it would be ready to go overseas in 30 days from call-up.

The Naval Reserve also escapes serious criticism, although officials feel it should be held to 125,000 sea-trained men rather than a larger force including thousands of men who do not train regularly.

Staley Re-elected 10th Time by NFO

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Putting away the last minute challenge of a Minnesota, Oren Lee Staley was returned Thursday night to his 10th consecutive term as president of the National Farmers' Organization.

Sole opposition came when Lynn Bowe, Elk River, Minn., won a surprise nomination from the convention floor only shortly before the balloting started.

In an acceptance speech the young Minnesota farmer said the NFO is "in trouble" and needs new leadership. Bowe was critical of the way two livestock holding actions were conducted and said: "It hasn't got a single dime in our pockets."

The vote of delegates, however, gave Staley 4,763 votes to Bowe's 669.

Staley, 41, and himself a farmer from Rea, Mo., was renamed as he laid in a hospital bed recovering from an appendectomy earlier this week. He will be released from the hospital Sunday.

Staley was nominated by Edward Pfingsten, the NFO vice president from Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, who called the president "terrific leader."

Pfingsten himself was nominated for president by Leroy Odgaard of Cass County, N.D. but declined. He later was returned as vice president by acclamation.

There was another minor challenge to Staley's leadership during the day. The proposal would have limited officers to four consecutive years, but was easily defeated.

With the convention program running hours behind schedule delegates okayed late in the night resolutions for more holding actions on farm products and reductions in meat imports.

Another resolution would prohibit the department of agriculture marketing services from reporting estimated livestock receipts at major markets. In the last holding action the NFO claimed receipt figures were being manipulated to help meat processors.

But he is determined not to let the present opposition of President Charles de Gaulle, who is building a French national nuclear force, block formation of the NATO force, which Johnson hopes can be started next year.

These points of administration policy emerged from a speech Johnson delivered Thursday at Georgetown University. Setting the stage for his meeting next Monday and Tuesday with British Prime Minister Harold Wilson, it appealed for unity among the Atlantic allies and denied the Atlantic alliance is "in the midst of crisis."

Rather, Johnson asserted, the alliance "is in the midst of change," and he argued that every great period of change in the alliance has been characterized by debate and dire warnings of trouble.

Johnson Yields To Demand for NATO Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson evidently is prepared to agree to extensive changes in U.S. plans for a NATO nuclear missile force in an effort to secure British participation.

He also intends to handle the highly controversial project in such a way as to keep open the possibility, however slight, that France eventually may be persuaded to cooperate.

But he is determined not to let the present opposition of President Charles de Gaulle, who is building a French national nuclear force, block formation of the NATO force, which Johnson hopes can be started next year.

These points of administration policy emerged from a speech Johnson delivered Thursday at Georgetown University. ## Sheriff, Deputy Seized by FBI In Mississippi

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI arrested 16 men in Mississippi today in connection with the midsummer murders of three civil rights workers at Philadelphia, Miss.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said 21 men have been named in criminal charges in connection with the slayings of James Chaney, Andrew Goodman and Michael Schwerner last June 22.

Nineteen, he said, were charged with conspiring to interfere with federal rights. Two others were charged with "misprision of a felony."

Misprision means being an accessory after the fact of a crime.

Hoover said the FBI will make its information available to state authorities for possible murder warrants.

Those arrested include Sheriff Lawrence A. Rainey, of Nehobha County, and his deputy, Cecil Price, who was the last to acknowledge seeing the three young men alive last June.

Hoover gave this account of the crime, as pieced together by an intensive FBI investigation: Late in the morning of June 21, the three victims left Meridian in a 1963 station wagon for the purpose of investigating the June 16 burning of a Negro church near Philadelphia.

About 4 p.m. Chaney was arrested for speeding at Philadelphia. Price, who arrested him, also held Goodman and Schwerner for investigation. About six hours later Chaney posted $20 bond and the three were released.

The trio's station wagon was found two days later, burned and abandoned on a dirt road 13 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

An intensive search by FBI agents, Mississippi state troopers and Navy personnel ended Aug. 4 when FBI agents dug into a new earthen dam near Philadelphia and discovered the three bodies.

Hoover said the FBI, in narrowing the massive field of possible suspects, directed its attention primarily toward known members and sympathizers of Ku Klux Klan — "which group includes most of those arrested today."

Several of the men have been prime suspects since the investigation began, Hoover said. But weeks of further checking were necessary to identify the alleged accomplices and compile the evidence which resulted in today's arrests.

The FBI identified the following, aside from Price and Rainey, as those charged today:

Bernard L. Akin, 50, a Meridian salesman; Earl B. Akin, 32, a Meridian trailer salesman; Jimmy Arledge, 27, a Meridian truck driver; Horace D. Barnett, 25, a salesman formerly of Meridian; Travis M. Barnett, 36, part-owner and operator of a Meridian garage.

Also, Otha Neal Burges, 71, a Philadelphia Police Department patrolman; Olen L. Burrage, 34, a trucking company operator in Philadelphia; James T. Harris, 30, a Meridian truck driver; Frank J. Herndon, 46, who runs a drive-in restaurant in Meridian; Tommy A. Horne, 28, of Meridian, owner of a plumbing firm in Bonita, Miss.

Also James E. Jordan, 38, a construction worker formerly of Meridian and now of Gulfport; Edgar Ray Killen, 39, a minister, farmer and sawmill operator in Union; Billy Wayne Posey, 28, of Philadelphia, operator of a Williamsville service station; Alton Wayne Roberts, 26, a Meridian salesman; Jerry McGrew Sharp, 21, manager of a Philadelphia pulpwood supply company.

Also Jimmy Snowden, 31, a Meridian truck driver; Jimmy Lee Townsend, 17, of Philadelphia, a service station attendant at Williamsville; Herman Tucker, 36, Philadelphia contractor; and Oliver R. Warner Jr., 54, a Meridian grocery store operator.

At the time of the FBI announcement, those listed as still at large were Horace D. Barnett, Otha Neal Burges and Tommy A. Horne.

NASON ON EDUCATION

Excessive Use
Of Car Hurts

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.
Professor of Education,
University of Southern Calif.

Dear Dr. Nason:

My son wants a car. Is it a good idea to let him have it — and would it hurt his studies while he is in high school? B.U., Los Angeles, Calif.

Answer:

This question depends on the boy. Statistics show that when a boy gets a car in high school, his grades go down. If he has a car of his own which he is allowed to drive any time he wishes, his grades drop the lowest. If he has a car on which there are certain restrictions during the week, grades don't drop quite so far. If he has the use of the family car a couple of nights a week, they drop only a little.

A few parents have been able to control the situation by saying, "When your grades go down, you don't get the car!" Some boys have been able to discipline themselves to get

Electronic Soil
Test Reporting
To Be Discussed

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Electronically computed soil test reports will be the subject of a meeting at the courthouse here at 1 p.m. Tuesday, according to Ed Ausderau, Trempealeau County farm management agent. The reports and recommendations will be explained by Leo M. Walsh, extension specialist in soils, University of Wisconsin.

All 1964 soil tests in the county were reported by the electronic computer, says Ausderau. This new system provides much more detail than older methods because of the speed and versatility of the computers. Recommendations are made for individual samples as well as on a field basis, and a complete fertilizer prescription is written for each crop that may be grown.

The completed report contains a great deal of information, but may tend to appear somewhat confusing because it is so different from previous soil test reports, Ausderau says.

Man Killed in Cudahy Mishap

MILWAUKEE (Special) — Ronald Grycan, about 30, was killed Wednesday while welding a plate to a 10-foot high drum at the Harnischfeger plant in nearby Cudahy.

Authorities said he was standing on the plate when it slipped from a hoist. Grycan fell into the drum and was crushed by the plate.

To Be Shown at Mondovi Meeting

MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — Colored motion pictures of fishing, wildlife and outdoor living will be presented by Fred Blake, faculty member of Stout State University, Menomonie, to the Mondovi Conservation Club Wednesday night.

A few years ago Blake started taking canoe trips into Canada. These adventures gradually stretched in duration so now he spends entire summers in the Canadian north, out of contact with civilization. During the last four years he has spent 36 weeks traveling through the north by paddle and recording his experiences in colored motion pictures.

Club members and wives are invited. Refreshments will be served. Club memberships at $1 are available from the officers, George Weiss, president; Francis Kasenow, vice president; and Edwin Hagen, secretary-treasurer.

3-County Family
Workshop Slated

CALEDONIA, Minn. — A practical educational workshop series for the farm family will be offered to farmers in Fillmore, Houston and Winona counties beginning Jan. 13, according to the Houston County agent, Russell Krech.

Krech said, "This workshop is directed toward the younger recently established farm family who has decided to make farming a career and is planning the farm business to meet family goals."

The teaching staff will be made up of University of Minnesota faculty members including both county and state extension personnel. The course is offered in five sessions including lecture, discussion and work periods. Sessions will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., one day a week for five consecutive weeks.

Both husband and wife are encouraged to attend. A small charge will be made to cover cost of the printed material.

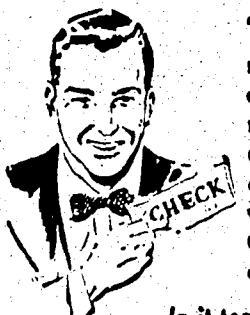

Couples interested in participating in this year's workshop sessions or finding out more about them should contact their county agent. Krech said, "Fifteen couples from Houston County will have an opportunity to participate. Enrollments will be taken on a first-come, first-served basis."

St. Charles To Discuss Reduced Plan

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — A public meeting will be held at the high school Tuesday at 8 p.m. to inform the public concerning plans for the proposed new high school here and the $1,100,000 bond issue to finance it. The election will be Dec. 14.

Representatives of the architectural firm, Matson & Wegleitner, and T. G. Evenzen & Associates, fiscal agents, will be present.

SINCE THE school board is part of the citizens committee appointed recently to assist in plans for the school, Del Rubberg, board chairman, presided at a meeting of the committee Thursday night. No committee chairman was elected. Leonard Anderson, nominated by Fay McCarthy, declined.

Osmund Gilbertson of the high school faculty was spokesman for teachers who feel that to reduce the plan from a $1,285,000 structure to a $1,100,000 structure — to fit the bonding limit — would be a mistake.

The present high school, housed in the same building with the elementary school, has 27 teaching stations, while there would be 24 or 25 in the proposed building. The present building has a study hall but the new structure wouldn't have one. The new building would, however, provide two additional separate departments: A room for business machines and for the chorus.

The teachers feel the proposed high school program for a new facility couldn't be carried out until a second bond issue were approved as soon as possible after the initial building is constructed.

HENRY Bartel, superintendent, said brochures explaining the new building should be in the mail Monday morning to give electors a chance to study them prior to the meeting Tuesday night. Residents of outlying districts served by St. Charles School have been invited.

The new facility would provide more room for the elementary section, Rubberg said. While the planned building would not be a complete solution to the problem of facilities, it would be a start, followed by more building as finances allow.

Blair Nursing Home Group Works on Plans

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — The seven-member housing commission, named to plan, construct and develop a nursing home in Blair, has organized and is studying procedures.

Oswald Stette was named chairman and Ray Steuernaegel, co-chairman. William Melby is secretary-treasurer. Other members are Rudolph Anderson, Don Hulbrecht, Donald Stanford and William Schroeder.

Property fronting on Highway 95 on the west edge of the city has been chosen and approved by representatives of the state Board of Health. Purchase is expected soon.

Alternate plans are being considered. Architects and fiscal agents are expected to present their proposals soon.

Cigarette Licenses Expiring December 31

All cigarette licenses in the city will expire Dec. 31, City Recorder John S. Carter reminded dealers today.

Carter said dealers can apply for new or renewal permits at any time and should do so without delay. There are about 200 licensed cigarette dealers in the city.

It'll Get Warmer— But Only Gradually

Although the weatherman continued to say mostly fair and continued cold for this area, most Winonans appeared willing to settle for this kind of weather after Tuesday's 4 spell.

The prediction called for a low of 5 below to 5 above tonight and a high of 10-20 Saturday. Sunday, the prediction said, would see some moderation with precipitation unlikely.

THE EXTENDED forecast, issued today, indicated temperatures through Wednesday would average 3 to 8 degrees below daytime normals of 28-32 and nighttime lows of 10-15. A gradual warming up is seen for the five days.

Precipitation is expected to average less than .10 of an inch in (melted) snow with most likely period for measurable precipitation about Tuesday. The Winona temperature rose to 23 Thursday afternoon, dropping

Police Check 3 Collisions; One Week Old

Two collisions occurred on city streets Thursday, and a week-old collision is under investigation by city police, it was learned today.

Two cars collided Thursday at 12:40 p.m. at Orrin Street and the Service Drive. More than $150 damage was inflicted on the vehicles.

MARSHALL E. Bodine, 468 Liberty St., was driving north on Orrin Street when the collision occurred with a pickup truck driven west on the Service Drive by Julius J. Averbeck, Cochrane, Wis.

Averbeck told Patrolman Paul Kapustik that he had run a stop sign at the intersection, while looking around for a restaurant. The Wisconsin man forfeited $10 on the resulting charge in municipal court today.

Damage was $100 to the right side of the Bodine car, and more than $50 to the left front of Averbeck's truck.

A COLLISION at King and Dakota streets Thursday at 1:10 p.m. caused more than $150 damage to the two vehicles.

David W. Crothers, 24, 900 E. Sanborn St., was driving a Royal Yellow taxi cab north on Dakota Street when there was a collision with the car of James M. Nelson, 18, North Branch, Minn., which was moving east on King Street.

The two drivers saw each other approaching the intersection, tried to brake but slid into each other on the still-icy street surfaces.

Damage was to the front of the cab, about $150, and to the right rear of the Nelson car, more than $100. Patrolman Herbert R. Kanthack investigated.

POLICE ARE completing their investigation of a collision last Friday on 5th Street, 150 feet west of Mankato Avenue.

Harvey Stever, 412 High Forest St., was backing his car out of a service station at the 5th Street location about 6:35 p.m. when he collided with a parked car belonging to Joe Przybyski, 1066 W. Broadway.

The station is on the north side of 5th Street; the car was parked on the south side, directly across from the station's driveway. Stever backed into the left rear door of the Przy-

Boy, 7, Loses Foot In Take-off

CALEDONIA, Minn. (Special) — A 7-year-old rural Caledonia boy lost his right foot to the ankle in the power take-off of a corn sheller at 4:50 p.m. Thursday.

Mike Ingvalson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Ingvalson, had been sitting on the tractor seat and for some reason decided to get off. Either his rubber or clothing caught in the machinery. Because the foot was severed, he was freed from the machine; otherwise he might have been pulled farther in.

His father was standing nearby but it happened so fast he didn't see exactly how it occurred. He said he didn't know if the lad was coming down to help him or what he had in mind.

Mike was taken to Caledonia Community Hospital for first aid and then to St. Francis Hospital, La Crosse, where surgery was performed. He received a fracture of the right leg above the knee, and lost a great deal of blood, his parents said. However this morning he was reported to be in satisfactory condition.

The Ingvalson farm is about five miles northwest of Caledonia.

Accountant Paid By Manufacturer In Settlement

The plaintiff in a District Court civil suit paid the defendant $650 in a settlement reached this week.

Vulcan Manufacturing Co., Inc., had asked $10,000 damages from Evan Henry, certified public accountant, plus return of a ledger, an additional $2,500 and court costs.

In his counterclaim, Henry said that the ledger had been turned over to him for professional services and claimed $730 payment for those services plus court costs.

Henry said that Vulcan has agreed to pay him $650.

William A. Lindquist was attorney for Henry.

bylski car and proceeded east on 5th Street.

More than $100 damage was done to the parked car; an undetermined amount to Stever's vehicle. Patrolman William A. King investigated.

3 Legislators To Meet With Chamber Units

Winona County's state senator and two legislative representatives will attend a luncheon meeting with city businessmen at 12:15 p.m. Wednesday at Hotel Winona.

Sen. Roger Laufenburger, Lewiston, and Reps. Donald McLeod, rural Winona County, and Frank Theis, city, have agreed to exchange ideas with the businessmen on legislation that might be offered in the next session of the Legislature.

The meeting is sponsored by the Winona Chamber of Commerce governmental affairs committee. Members of that committee and of the educational, municipal affairs, tourist and publicity and highway committees have sent letters informing them of the meeting, but all members of the chamber are invited to attend.

Paternity Suit Dismissal Denied In District Court

A move to dismiss the state's paternity actions against Joseph A. Abraham, La Crosse, for lack of District Court jurisdiction was denied Thursday by Judge Arnold Hatfield.

Judge Hatfield made three findings of fact in his order: First, the mother of the two children allegedly fathered by Abraham was a resident of Winona County when she made the paternity complaints Aug. 24 in municipal court.

Second, the minor children described in the complaints were legal residents of Winona County at that time, also. Third, Winona County has legal responsibility to support the children if they become dependent.

Thus, the judge denied the validity of the arguments presented in a hearing Nov. 10 by the defendant's attorney, Roger P. Brosnahan. Assistant County Attorney Richard H. Darby had depended, for the state's rebuttal on a deposition made by the complainant, Judy Stimson.

Abraham must now plead to the charges in District Court, and arraignment has been tentatively scheduled for Dec. 14 at 1:30 p.m. before Judge Hatfield.

Indian Head Unit Asks Bingo for Nonprofit Groups

DURAND, Wis. — Forty-four members of Wisconsin Indian Head Country, Inc., meeting at Club 10 here Thursday, passed resolutions asking for the amendment of the state gambling law to allow bingo by nonprofit organizations and calling for the upgrading of U.S. Highway 53.

Highway 53 about bisects the corporation's area, which runs from the south end of Eau Claire County up to Lake Superior and includes 16 counties. It is three counties wide and five counties long, plus Buffalo County to the west.

DONALD MACREA, Eau Claire, presided. Steve Henry, Eau Claire, was appointed executive secretary effective Jan. 1 succeeding Floyd Davis, Ladysmith, who has served 2½ years. Henry has been assistant executive secretary since May, moving to the position from the Merrill radio station.

The group decided to add the Chippewa Falls Farm, Home and Sports show to its agenda of sports shows this year. The corporation annually attends the Indianapolis, Ind., show, two in Chicago, and the sports shows in Milwaukee, La Crosse, Des Moines and Minneapolis. Indian Head Country has a booth at each event and distributes its annual vacation and travel guides.

It discussed preparing a brochure on historical sites and markers for the 1965 season. It will continue its big fish contest.

The next quarterly meeting of this 20-year-old organization, which has a membership of 1,250 among businesses and resorts, will be at Ladysmith in March.

Each county has officers and meetings. Gerald Duval, Buffalo City, is Buffalo County director. Elmer Goetz, Fountain City, and Vinc Reld, Alma, are committee members. Duval and Elmer Hartnagel, Buffalo City, attended the meeting Thursday.

Ralph Blair, Durand, is Pepin County chairman. Other officers are Irwin Matson, Stockholm, and A. C. Rippley and G. C. Schiefelbein, Durand.

Attending from Pepin County were Sam Bauer, George Onken, Richard Slaby, Kenneth McMahon and Schiefelbein, all of Durand.

The organization's purpose is to promote tourism.

FOR THE CHILDREN . . . Members of the Winona Area Shrine Club were present this morning when its trailer was loaded with about $800 in groceries — mostly canned — for the Shrine crippled children's hospital in Minneapolis. The money is part of the profits of last summer's Shrine-sponsored circus. In the same trailer were wrapped gifts for the

WSC Fund Request Nearly Double Present

Winona State College has requested an appropriation of more than $3.5 million for the biennium beginning next July 1.

The request was submitted to Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag in a meeting in St. Paul Thursday, attended by representatives of the five state colleges and by Dr. Bevington Reed, executive director of the State College Board.

Representing Winona State were Dr. Nels Minne, president, and Harold Murck, college business manager.

THE REQUESTED appropriation of $3,540,686 is almost double the $1,852,750 appropriated for the current biennium. The current appropriation breaks down this way:

A total of $1,408,846 was spent during the 1963-64 school year, with $530,534 of that coming from college receipts. The state appropriation for that year was $878,312.

During the current year, an amount estimated at $1,577,657 will be spent, with $603,219 coming from receipts here. This leaves $974,438 to come from the state.

Expenditures for the 1965-66 school year—the first year of the new biennium—are estimated at $2,271,471. Of that, the college expects to meet $668,472 with its own receipts, leaving $1,602,999 to be appropriated by the next session of the Legislature.

Judge Denies Divorce Suit

The petition for divorce of Wilma Busch, 50, Winona Rt. 3, against her husband, Clarence, 52, same address, was denied in an order handed down Thursday by District Judge Arnold Hatfield.

Clarence Busch contested his wife's action in a hearing Nov. 5 in District Court. He denied his wife's allegations that he had treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner, and told the court that he wanted to continue living with her and their three minor children, aged 8 to 13.

Attorneys were Richard H. Darby for Mrs. Busch, and William A. Lindquist for her husband.

In a memorandum accompanying his order, Judge Hatfield wrote that the primary difficulty, in his judgment, was that Mrs. Busch wanted to be the "dominant factor in the marriage."

The judge said that Clarence Busch had actually received cruel treatment at the hands of his wife. However, since he wanted to continue the marriage, Judge Hatfield wrote, he was entitled to do so.

The couple was married May 27, 1948, in Columbus, Ind., but had lived continuously in Winona County since that time.

Highway 61-14

Dakota-Dresbach Segment Opened

All four lanes of new Trunk Highway 61 were opened this morning from a point one mile north of Dakota to Dresbach. The new routing adds a little more than two miles to the total four-lane roadway now in use. Traffic is limited to two lanes from Dresbach to La Crescent.

Henry Kraus, resident engineer here for the Minnesota Department of Highways, said the new pattern will remain in use throughout the winter.

He pointed out that sharp crossovers between lanes have been eliminated, thus reducing chances for traffic hazards this winter.

The only crossover that will remain in use is that taking all traffic to the southbound lane at Dresbach.

The total expenditures for the 1966-67 school year are expected to rise to $2,689,732, with $752,045 to come from college receipts and $1,937,687 to come from the state.

THE MOST COSTLY parts of the request, the college noted, are for personal services, scientific and educational supplies and equipment. They are based on predicted enrollments, which are expected to total 2,000 in 1965. Present enrollment is 1,860. Both figures include full-time students only.

The college—along with the other state colleges—is asking faculty salary increases of 15 percent in 1965-66 and 10 percent the next school year. A rise in college presidents' salaries from $16,500 to $21,500 also was requested by the colleges.

Winona State's proposal asks that 43 new faculty positions be authorized for 1965-66.

IN ADDITION to the maintenance and equipment appropriation, the college is asking for $13,000 for repairs and improvements on campus. Last year, $12,912 was spent, and expenditures for the current year are estimated at $12,940. The actual appropriation, however, would remain the same as it has been during this current biennium.

Special accounts requested by the college include $42,722 for nurses training during the 1965-66 school year and $66,671 for such training during the next year. The program was authorized by the Legislature in 1963.

Another special appropriation would be $757 for research in the use of teaching machines. In 1963, $1,230 was allowed for this purpose. The $757 is the amount of this 1963 appropriation that remains unspent and reverts to the state. What is actually involved, then, is a reappropriation.

The college is also asking for $2,800 for continuation of its affiliation program with a teacher-training institution in Oslo, Norway. This is the same amount that was authorized in 1963 for the current biennium.

A COMPUTER for use in data processing training in the college's business education division is another request included in the proposal for the next biennium.

It would involve an appropriation of $80,174 for acquiring the computer — a model 1620 is being requested — in the 1965-66 school year, and another appropriation — this one $1,198 for a maintenance agreement — the next year.

The Banta has left one barge at Alma. Whether it'll go back for it was not certain at noon today.

The L. Wade Childress, following the Banta and Rhea, is having easier going. It came through Lake Pepin later Thursday, left some barges at Alma and headed back for St. Paul for more. It was back through Hastings this morning.

Meanwhile, the Bull Durham is coming upriver. It'll deliver three oil barges to Winona and is expected early next week.

Two Parties To Recommend Machine Judges

Preparations for switching over from ballots to machine voting in the city will get under way soon.

One of the first requisites — the selection and training of election judges — has been partially met. Leaders of DFL and Republican parties will submit the names of four party members for each of the city's 16 precincts by Monday. The decision was reached Wednesday night in an informal meeting of City Council representatives and party chairmen.

AT THE MEETING were Duane Peterson, DFL county chairman, Mrs. Byron White, county GOP chairwoman, and Ald. Neil Sawyer, Harold Briessath, Harold Thiewes and James Stoltman.

According to City Recorder John S. Carter, state law requires election boards to be staffed equally by Democrats and Republicans. The law outlines specific procedures to be followed where machines are used and provides that judges shall attend training schools before going on duty.

Carter said training sessions will begin when voting machine company representatives arrive in the city to conduct them. Operation of the machines will be explained and judges will receive handbooks with operating instructions and pertinent sections of the election law.

Voting machines now have been delivered, Carter said. Members of the local League of Women Voters will attend orientation classes on the machines, then will serve as voluntary instructors for the public. Carter said machines will be set up in all bank lobbies, with LWV members at hand to demonstrate them.

THE VOTING machines will be used for the first time in city elections early next year. Election boards hereafter will be composed of four judges instead of five, Carter said.

Only one shift of judges will be used, he noted, since totals are available as soon as polls close and the need for long hours of counting "by hand" is eliminated, except for a few absentee ballots.

Saratoga Votes For Dissolution

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — The closed Saratoga common school district has voted to dissolve and attach to St. Charles Independent District.

George Martin, district clerk, reported the decision to Jesse Justus, Winona County superintendent of schools, today. The vote on Oct. 29 was 16-1 in favor of dissolution.

The superintendent will present the matter to the County Board of Commissioners Monday.

Saratoga is a closed district.

Spring Grove Party

SPRING GROVE, Minn. (Special) — Onsgard State Bank will hold its annual Christmas party Saturday from 2-5:30 p.m. Gifts will be distributed, the Legion Auxiliary will serve refreshments, Santa Claus will be at the bank, and a free movie will be shown at the school auditorium at 2 p.m. Children will be served lunch at the Legion clubrooms after the movie.

It Happened Last Night

Cary Grant
Now an M.C.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — In a thin ribbon of blue light in that great dark pit of Madison Square Garden, Cary Grant was m.c.'ing a Chanukah Festival for Israel Bonds. His tongue rippled musically over expressions like "bubba," which, I have an excellent authority, means grandmother.

And "zeidah" (grandfather) and "shetl" (small town). Who taught him? Who else? Sammy Davis?

It was a masterful job he did there on the podium with Bess Myerson. Cary Grant, hero of 26 movies at the Music Hall (the 27th, coming up, will be "Father Goose").

WHAT CLASS! Never once "Give this guy a great big hand!" Caressingly he read his notes about Jan Peerce.

"Let us greet him!" His arms went out in a circle, embraced the thousands, and pulled from them a roar.

I asked "Father Goose," who now can take the pumpnickel out of the mouths of millionaire M.C.'s like Bob Hope and Milton Berle, how he happened to get into the m.c. dodge.

"I suppose I've got some of the old Hebrew blood left in me from somewhere. I haven't we all?" He had his feet up on a coffee table at the Plaza a few hours before.

"DURING THE war, we had our own group of British citizens raising funds for British War Relief. A lot of my religion didn't help much. Me? I'm Protestant, I guess.

"Some of our Jewish friends in Hollywood, like Sam Goldwyn, said, 'What can we do to help?'

"And when they asked me to help Bonds for Israel, I said, 'Why not? They helped me!'

His girl friend Dyan Cannon wired him from Burbank:

"After three deep breaths and loving thoughts, relax into a happy evening. I just know you'll be brilliant, my Captain. Mazeltov and Ich lebe dere."

INASMUCH AS this said "I love you," I asked Grant, "Are you getting married?" He replied, "How's your pretty wife?" ... "You didn't understand."

I said, "Are you going to get married?" ... "I did understand," he said. "How's your pretty wife?" ... One m.c. job and he gets to be a wisecracker!

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "I realize," says Jerry Butler, "that my wife had to think up ways to use those Thanksgiving leftovers — but turkey in corn flakes?"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: It's not true, insists Vincent Lopez, that children don't know the value of money: "Just try giving one of them a penny."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "There is only one pretty child in the world, and every father has it." — Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: Heard at the office water cooler. "I figure my job is safe — it doesn't pay enough to make it worth while to invent a machine to do it." — Catholic Digest.

Bob Hope asked Richard Chamberlain (Dr. Kildare) how he handled people who asked him for medical advice. "I listen to their symptoms," Chamberlain said, "then I send them to Vince Edwards." ... That's Earl, brother.

Sister M. Adrienne, OSF, reference librarian at the College of Saint Teresa, will speak at the meeting of the Northern Ohio unit of the Catholic Library Association Tuesday in Cleveland.

The U.S. has 145 Navy attaches in 50 foreign capitals.

Along with her paper, Sister Adrienne has prepared a selected bibliography of books, magazines and pamphlets.

75 Attend Piano
Recital at Home

About 75 persons attended a piano recital given by pupils of Mrs. Robert Masyga Wednesday night at Paul Watkins Memorial Home.

Playing solos were Debby and Pam Hoesek, Charles Jackson, Leann Scharmer, Dianne Buswell, Peggy Jo Kaske, James and Julie Keller, Marni Miller, Greg Wolfe, Pam Kinzie, Kris Otto, Lisa and Karen Andersen, Kathy Masyga, Patti Gepner, Carey Griesel, Katy Korupp and Linda Florin.

Katy Korupp and Linda Florin played a duet, too. Brian Masyga was the usher.

Ettrick Post Cited

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Runnstrand - Pederson American Legion Post, Ettrick, has received a citation, signed by Daniel Foley, Wabasha, Minn., past national commander, for outstanding community service, 1963-64. The citation is for volunteer services in dredging silt and mud from the Ettrick pond, filling adjacent lowlands for a park, and cutting brush and small trees from the park site.

WSH Concert
For Charity
Tuesday Night

The choir, orchestra and band of Winona Senior High School will present their annual Christmas Goodfellows Concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the senior high school auditorium.

A varied program will be presented by the three groups, in this, their first formal concert of the school year.

Ordinarily, the music groups do not charge admission for their concerts. Since this is a benefit concert, however, there will be an admission charge, and admittance will be by ticket only. Members of the band, orchestra and choir are now selling tickets. Tickets may also be purchased at the door the evening of the concert.

All proceeds from the concert will be turned over to the Daily News for its Goodfellows Fund. This has been a Christmas project for the music groups five years.

Guthrie Group
To Present Play
At St. Teresa

An original play, "The Platform — Now and Then," will be presented by the members of an acting company from the Minnesota Theatre Company at the College of Saint Teresa at 8 p.m. Sunday.

A combination touring company and traveling seminar, the troupe consists of eight members of the company which performs classical drama in repertory at the Tyrone Guthrie Theatre in Minneapolis.

SAINT TERESA is one of 11 Minnesota colleges that the company is touring in association with the general extension division of the University of Minnesota. The troupe's appearance here is sponsored by the Lee and Rose Warner grant to the college.

Invited to see the production are a number of students in speech and drama from the other two Winona colleges.

"The Platform — Now and Then" illustrates the history of theater through the ages. It was written by James Lineberger, playwright in residence at the Minnesota Theatre Company, and John Lewin of the acting company. It will be directed by Douglas Campbell, associate artistic director of the company.

The play will show societies throughout history as reflected by the medium of theater. It is based on a concept of Campbell's and centers around the Greek god Thespis.

MONDAY morning the performers will hold a seminar which has been arranged by John E. Marzocco, chairman of the college speech and drama department, and his staff. The seminar will run from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m. Moderator of the symposium will be Sherwood Snyder, consultant to the drama advisory service of the extension division of the university.

Appearing in the production will be Paul Ballantyne, Katherine Emery, Ed Flanders, Sheila Goldes, Rex Partington, Robert Pastene, William Pogue and Gordon Smith.

In announcing the tour, Oliver Rea, managing director of the company, and Willard Thompson, dean of the extension division, said the project was a new method of cooperation and interaction between the professional theater and the educational community of the Upper Midwest.

"WE VISUALIZE this pilot project developing into a program of continuing collaboration to expand theater interest and knowledge in this area," Rea said.

Because of crowded auditorium facilities at the college, it will not be possible to open this production to the public. All seats are reserved.

North Viet Nam Infiltrates 30-40,000 Reds Into South

(Editor's Note: A White House statement on Tuesday referred to increased North Vietnamese support of Communist fighters in South Viet Nam, but gave no figures on the extent of Communist infiltration. In this exclusive interview, the new South Vietnamese ambassador to Washington lists infiltration figures and gives his views on the military and political situation in his war-plagued homeland.)

By SPENCER DAVIS
WASHINGTON 12P — North Viet Nam sent 30,000 to 40,000 infiltrators into South Viet Nam during the past three years and the flow continues at a stepped-up pace, Ambassador Tran

Thien Khlem said today. The newly arrived South Vietnamese envoy said in an exclusive interview that the Ho Chi Minh Trail, passing from North Viet Nam through Laos, serves as the main road of infiltration. Khlem, bespectacled 39-year-old soldier trained by the French and Americans, is a lieutenant general who has served as commander-in-chief of the South Vietnamese armed forces and as his country's minister of defense.

He was one of the triumvirate along with Gen. Nguyen Khanh and Gen. Duong Van Minh which ruled South Viet Nam last summer before the formation of the present civilian government. How to stop the infiltration has been a perpetual worry of the Vietnamese general staff, Khlem said in the interview. He added: "We have been thinking about this for a long time and we are still thinking. If we are not able to stop the infiltration completely, at least it must be slowed down."

"We have Special Forces on the borders with Laos but there are not enough troops for this. Our biggest difficulty is the mountainous terrain which is hard to control."

Asked if stopping the infiltration would be decisive in turning the tide of battle in South Viet Nam, Khlem replied: "We do think that if we can succeed in stopping the infiltration it will have a very large impact." The problem of infiltration

Khlem said that 60 per cent of the infiltrators have been military cadres and 40 per cent are civilians who are trained at organizing Communist cells at the village and provincial levels. "According to captured documents and word from prisoners of war, the infiltration increased over a three year period of 1961-1963," Khlem said. "According to the figures we got we understand North Viet Nam sent between 30,000 and 40,000 people." Khlem said the Ho Chi Minh Trail begins at Vinh, a seaport in North Viet Nam, crosses into Laos at Muoi Gia Pass and runs into southeastern Laos to important supply and concentration points at Tchepone, Muong and Nung and Attapu. "Recently Gen. Phoumi Nosa-van, rightist deputy prime minister of Laos and minister of defense, said North Viet Nam has some five divisions — 20,000 men — in the territory of Laos and two-thirds of these forces are being used to protect the Ho Chi Minh Trail."

"On the supply roads, according to the information we have, North Viet Nam is using Soviet-built Molotov trucks. This convoy of trucks is supported by armored cars or tanks," Khlem said. He said this information had been given to him personally by royal Laotian army officers from Savannakhet, one of the southern military bases of the Lao government. Khlem said that in the military field in South Viet Nam, "We are quite sure that the Communists are not able to win the war." But he said the political situation still is confused because full agreement has not been reached among all political leaders on a unified point of view as to the best way of fighting the Communist Viet Cong. "It is sure that the Communists will take advantage of this confusion to make the situation more difficult," he said.

Khlem said the Vietnamese army would never back any nationalist political figures who do not take a very clear position against the Communists. The army would not back leaders who favor neutralization "or going along with President Charles de Gaulle," he said. Khlem is a prominent Buddhist and his words appeared directed against the reported efforts of some Buddhists to replace the present government with a neutralist regime. Khlem said the reason power was turned over to the civilians is because "we visualize the kind of war we are facing now is not merely a military operation, but a political, social and economic war. The army cannot fight this war alone. I think we have to give reason to the people to fight against communism and show them that after we win, they will have a better life."

Major Decision On South Viet Nam?

IS A MAJOR POLICY decision on the war in South Viet Nam about to be reached by the Johnson administration? Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor is in Washington and has talked with the President and the joint chiefs of staff but there still is a dense fog over this country's plans, if any, for saving the chaotic situation.

A rather vague statement, issued after their first meeting earlier this week, leaves the way open for a far tougher American policy — if that's what they have in mind.

Presumably, prospective new military actions could include air strikes against the Communist supply lines that run from North to South Viet Nam through the mountainous jungles of Laos.

That is what Ambassador Taylor is now reported to favor — but two months ago he said that "military action will not win . . . and the central task is still to restore a viable society within the provinces of South Viet Nam."

All through 1964 President Johnson has given the impression of a man reluctant to do anything different from what has been done in the past and what has been done was limited even though the war crumbled day by day.

JOHNSON'S HESITANCY about broadening the war is understandable, although hesitancy may lose it. If, for instance, North Viet Nam were bombed, Red China might come to its aid, thus turning a small war into an American-Chinese war.

We are inclined to agree with John S. Knight, publisher of The Miami Herald and head of the Knight newspaper chain, who asks why serious consideration is now being given to escalating this struggle. He continues:

The blunt answer is that the United States is losing in South Viet Nam and seeks some way to reverse the trend. The "Hawks" in the Pentagon are pressing their case for enlarging the struggle with the argument that all of Southeast Asia will fall to the Communists if we do not strike North Viet Nam, and strike hard.

The matter of U.S. prestige is likewise involved. It is maintained that unless we can find the way to victory, the nations friendly to the United States will never again trust our leadership.

AND YET, THERE is another side to the coin.

Our involvement in South Viet Nam began with a policy advanced by John Foster Dulles in 1954. The Dulles theory was that given ample economic and military aid, the South Vietnamese could repel the Communists from the north.

Not only has this policy been a failure, but each successive government in South Viet Nam grew progressively weaker even as U.S. aid and military support was increased.

It has also been widely assumed that Communist expansion can be held in check by military means. But actually, as The St. Louis Post-Dispatch has said: "Communism goes through and around military positions if the political conditions are ripe; that is what has been happening in South Viet Nam."

BEFORE WE SEND more American military "advisers" to South Viet Nam or invite Chinese participation in the war by a series of bombing attacks upon the North Vietnamese, we should weigh carefully the consequences and prospect of success.

1—The people of South Viet Nam have no confidence in their government, and no heart for the war. Thus the highly publicized reports of their desire to win the struggle are nothing but a myth.

2—Even if U.S. assaults upon the north are successful, they will in no way bring peace and stability to Southeast Asia.

3—If the Chinese decide to support the North Vietnamese army of 250,000 in an invasion of South Viet Nam, we would be facing another Korea.

ARE WE WILLING TO send our youth to die in what could only be a bloody and inconclusive struggle?

And to make this supreme effort for a nation without leadership, and for a weary people lacking in faith and a cause for which to fight?

4—A land war with North Viet Nam and China is unthinkable. The drain upon our manpower and resources would be endless.

Victory would be denied us unless the United States unleashed its nuclear power upon millions of Asians. Are we morally prepared to start a devastating world conflict?

These are some of the considerations that must be taken into account before we plunge into a catastrophic conflict for unattainable objectives.

If we and the South Vietnamese are unable even to defend an airport near Saigon, we should be thinking in terms of eventual disengagement.

SEVERAL SOLUTIONS have been proposed, none of them easy. But it is better to extricate ourselves from unwise commitments than to blindly persist in following policies which have been demonstrable failures.

It is not too late to begin discussions — possibly through the United Nations — which would lead to the principle of military neutralism first set forth in the 1954 conference at Geneva.

Although some will term such an approach as "appeasement," it is infinitely wiser and more courageous than to rush recklessly into a major war at such heavy cost in lives and so little prospect of ultimate success.

Prayer Decision Remains Fuzzy

By DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON — It has been assumed by many people that the Supreme Court of the United States, in an action taken the other day, cleared up the scope of its famous decision banning prayer in the public schools. But a close reading of the proceedings reveals that the situation is even fuzzier than it was before.

The high court itself did not make any comment but merely declined to hear a case that came to it from a lower court. When this happens, the inference is sometimes drawn that whatever the lower court has declared becomes "the law of the land."

In this instance, an issue was raised in the courts of the state of New York as to the constitutionality of the recitation in the public schools of the pledge of allegiance to the flag. The plaintiffs in the case argued that inclusion of the words "under God" in the pledge made it a form of religious exercise which should be barred, just as prayers in the schools previously had been ruled out by the Supreme Court.

IN OVERRULING such a contention, the New York court cited an opinion of the Supreme Court of the United States handed down in 1952. It said in part:

"The First Amendment, however, does not say that in every and all respects there shall be a separation of church and state. Rather, it studiously defines the manner, the specific ways, in which there shall be no concert or union or dependency one on the other. That is the common sense of the matter. Otherwise the state and religion would be aliens to each other — hostile, suspicious, and even unfriendly."

"Prayers in our legislative halls; the appeals to the Almighty in the messages of the chief executive; the proclamations making Thanksgiving Day a holiday; 'so help me God' in our courtroom oaths — these and all other references to the Almighty that run through our laws, our public rituals, our ceremonies would be flouting the First Amendment."

SO, FOR all practical purposes, the above language — originally issued by the Supreme Court 12 years ago and now repeated by a high court in the state of New York — is left standing as "the law of the land" by the Supreme Court of the United States in declining to review this latest case.

But it will be noted that Justice Black, who delivered the opinion of the majority in the prayer case in 1962, said in a footnote to the decision:

"There is of course nothing in the decision reached here that is inconsistent with the fact that school children and others are officially encouraged to express love for our country by reciting historical documents such as the Declaration of Independence which contain references to the Deity or by singing officially espoused anthems which include the composer's professions of faith in a supreme being, or with the fact that there are many manifestations in our public life or belief in God. Such patriotic or ceremonial occasions bear no true resemblance to the unquestioned religious exercise that the state of New York has sponsored in this instance."

18 Years of Fighting Gets U.S. Nowhere in Viet Nam

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON — When you read over the complete file on Viet Nam and French Indo-China, you get no tinge of American pride.

For after 18 years of Western civil and military aid — eight under the French and ten under the United States — and after seven billions of American dollars plus the services of thousands of Western advisers, South Viet Nam is worse off than at the end of World War II.

Furthermore, if a vote were held in South Viet Nam today, the majority of its people would probably vote to have the United States, with all its aid, all its advisers, and all its troops, go home.

These are the facts, unpleasant as they may be. The mistakes are bipartisan. Both the Republican and the Democratic administrations made the same mistakes. Both sides made grandiose promises, both waved the flag of unfulfilled achievement.

John Foster Dulles on Oct. 6, 1953, stated that a stronger French position in Indo-China was his "brightest achievement for the year."

BUT ONE YEAR later, France had tossed in the sponge. It was out of Indo-China altogether. Seven years later, April 20, 1961, John F. Kennedy told the American people, "We dare not fail to see the insidious nature of the new and deeper struggle. We dare not fail to grasp the new concepts, the new tools, the new sense of urgency that we will need to combat it in Cuba or South Viet Nam."

And ten years later, January 1964, President Johnson was making the same promises: "We shall maintain in Viet Nam American personnel and material needed to assist you in achieving victory."

One month later, Secretary of Defense McNamara made the most sensible statement of the entire 10-year period of flag-waving. "I don't believe," he said, after returning from Viet Nam, "that we as a nation should assume the primary responsibility for the war in Viet Nam. It is a war that can only be won by the Vietnamese themselves."

MEANWHILE the American people have been getting only fragmentary information regarding the burden, the bungling in Viet Nam. The record shows, for instance, that in 1953 the United States paid $300,000,000 for training Vietnamese troops under the French. And Gen. De Gaulle, believe it or not, protested. It shows that between 1950 and 1952, the U.S. footed one-third of the French war bill in Indo-China, sending 228 war planes, 235 naval vessels, 775 combat vehicles, and 1,300 trucks. In 1953, furthermore, the United States spent $100,000,000 building air strips for the French. One year later, the French got out.

Added together we spent about as much on the French in Indo-China as we spent to rebuild metropolitan France under the Marshall Plan.

There was one cautioning voice at the time, that of Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, later to become Senate majority leader. "We should end all but humanitarian aid to South Viet Nam," he said in 1955. He later claimed, after a Senate investigation, that Eisenhower had censored and kept secret a report on the evaluation of U. S. aid.

But the flow of aid continued. Also the flow of reassuring official statements.

AID CONTINUED at around $200 million to $300 million a year under Eisenhower, then was stepped up under Kennedy. As a senator, JFK had been one of John Foster Dulles' faithful supporters.

On Oct. 26, 1961, he exchanged letters with President Diem regarding military assistance, following up the exchange of Nov. 9, with 200 Air Force instructors, plus heavy amounts of Air Force equipment.

By Feb. 8, 1962, a total of 5,000 military men was in South Viet Nam, actively engaged in battle. On June 25, '62, the international control commission charged South Viet Nam with violating the 1954 Geneva agreement by accepting U. S. military men and making a "factual military alliance with the United States."

Meanwhile Presidents Kennedy and Diem had exchanged further correspondence charging the Communists of North Viet Nam with unceasing violation of the Geneva treaty.

On Jan. 14, '63, President Kennedy told Congress: "The spearhead of aggression has been blunted in Viet Nam."

In the previous year, American helicopters had flown

GOP Confused And Still Split

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — Republicans, repudiated in most of the past 32 years about as thoroughly as possible in American politics, are still confused and divided almost a month after one of their worst calamities.

They need more than some kind of agreement among themselves to end their intraparty strife. They need a policy and an attitude giving voters far more confidence in them than has been demonstrated these past 32 years.

Only in this way can the two-party system work, with voters willing to entrust control and direction of the government to either party at fairly regular intervals.

Otherwise, Republicans are doomed to remain a minority party in danger of disintegrating altogether.

THE CONFUSION and division were illustrated again this week when on the same day:

1. Sen. Barry Goldwater, defeated for the presidency in November, stood firm against any other Republicans' attempt to throw out his hand-picked chairman of the party's national committee, 38-year-old Dean Burch.

2. Charles H. Percy, the defeated Republican candidate for governor of Illinois, said he thought Burch no longer could successfully lead the party and called for a change in Republican policy.

Burch, fervent believer in Goldwater's brand of Republicanism, is inescapably linked with more than just the senator's disastrous 15-million-vote defeat by President Johnson last month.

THE REPUBLICANS lost more than the presidency. In Congress, where they had been a minority party since 1954, they became even more of a minority by losing 38 seats in the House and probably two in the Senate.

If the Republican National Committee fails to give Burch a vote of confidence when it meets next month, this can be interpreted as a repudiation not only of Goldwater and his kind of conservatism but of those sharing his views.

Goldwater said the anti-Burchers on the 132-member committee don't have enough votes to get rid of the Young Tucson attorney whom he chose to head the committee after his own presidential nomination in July.

AT THAT TIME the committee elected Burch to a four-year term at $30,000 a year, which would seem to give him good reason for thinking he had a right to want to make the committee stick to its contract.

Nevertheless, it would be embarrassing for him, the party, and any hope of party unity if a majority of the committee gave him a vote of no confidence and he still refused to step down. However, he has indicated he would resign if the committee voted no confidence.

And this is only part of the soul-searching going on within the Republican ranks. For instance: Republican governors meet today and Saturday in Denver to examine the party wreckage and try to think of some way to put it back on its feet.

Republicans have had small success wooing the voters in the years since 1952 when Franklin D. Roosevelt won the presidency and Democrats got overwhelming control of Congress.

Canada Reports Rich Ore Find

REGINA, Canada — (AP)—Discovery in the Canadian Arctic of an enormous deposit of metal ore, said to be the richest in the world, was reported Thursday by a Canadian official.

However, the location, at Milne Inlet 20 miles from the northern tip of Baffin Island, is icebound about 10 months each year.

Arthur Laing, federal northern affairs minister, said the deposit may be as much as 180 million tons, with 69 percent of it iron.

"It is unquestionably the best ore in the world," Laing said from Swift Current, Canada. "It is so pure and of such quality it can be fed directly into furnaces."

(Dow Jones News Service said the exploration was being carried out by Baffinland Iron Mines Ltd., a private Canadian corporation.)

fundamental belief in GOD

Dreamed of by millions, searched for by many, discovered by a few.
Established, built, maintained, and governed by a Fundamental Belief in God. That is America—these United States. That is our home... that is you and me. How else could the heritage we hold come into being?
A System?... Not so! But a dedicated, consecrated way of life as set forth in the Sermon on the Mount. Through the grief and misery suffered at Valley Forge, shines the same light which has illuminated men's minds since time began.
That same light—the Word of God—is now lighting and showing the way—the way of truth—to us as a nation and as individuals.
Just so long as each of us, each day, rededicate our lives to a Fundamental Belief in God—shall we endure.

Minister to Speak To County Mental Health Meeting

"The Minister's Role as a Counselor" will be discussed at the quarterly meeting of the Winona County Association for Mental Health at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the YMCA.

Speaker will be the Rev. William King of Grace Presbyterian Church. The audience will be invited to take part in a discussion with the Rev. Mr. King.

Also on the program will be reports on the group's state and national conventions. The public is invited, and members are being urged to bring friends to the meeting.

Members also are asked to bring their gifts for distribution in state hospitals. Those unable to bring gifts Monday may leave them at the Red Cross chapter House, 276 W. 5th St., before 5 p.m. next Thursday.

Holy Land Slides To Be Shown at Central Church

Dr. Kenneth Onsgard, Houston, will lecture on the Holy Land at Central Lutheran Church Sunday at 7 p.m. This will be one of the several Advent programs presented by the church in preparation for the Christmas season.

Dr. and Mrs. Onsgard traveled to the Holy Land last Easter season. They took pictures of the various places of Biblical interest. In addition to the pictures, Dr. and Mrs. Onsgard will lecture on the historical background of the various places they visited.

The program is under the direction of the church Brotherhood. A lunch and fellowship hour will follow the talks.

An invitation was issued to children of Sunday school age and their teachers. The scenes from Bible lands will assist them to see in their minds the geographical settings for the Christmas story.

Ordination Set At Greenfield Church Sunday

HARMONY, Minn. — Robert H. Stoskopf will be ordained into the ministry of the American Lutheran Church Sunday at 3 p.m. at Greenfield Lutheran Church here.

Stoskopf was born Oct. 21, 1938, to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard H. Stoskopf and was baptized May 7, 1959, by the Rev. O. C. Brenna. He was confirmed as a member of Greenfield Lutheran Church by the Rev. Marcus Gradvahl Sept. 14, 1952.

He received his education in Canton Consolidated School and entered Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, in the fall of 1956. He received a bachelor of arts degree from that college in 1960. He enrolled at Luther Theological Seminary, St. Paul, and after completion of two years of study he served a year of internship under the direction of the Rev. H. Arthur Dale at Our Savior's Lutheran and Emmanuel Lutheran churches, Virginia and Forbes, Minn.

He returned to Luther Theological Seminary and was graduated May 31, 1964, with a bachelor of divinity degree. The past summer he participated in the clinical pastoral education program at Hastings State Hospital, Hastings, Minn.

On Aug. 17, 1962, he married Dorothy Marie Erickson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Erickson, Mabel.

Stoskopf has accepted a call to serve as pastor of a parish in northern Minnesota. He will serve the Aardahl Lutheran, Bemidji; Malvik Lutheran, Guthrie, and Trinity Lutheran, Laporte, congregations. He and his wife will reside in the parish parsonage at Laporte.

His pastor, the Rev. Martin Ford, will officiate the ordination. Guest speaker will be the Rev. Marcus Gradvahl, First Lutheran Church, Sioux Falls, S.D. Chaplain Frank Mossman, Lutheran social service, will present the candidate. A reception will be held in the church parlors afterward.

Minister Now Making Living on Blair Farm

Louis Klotzbach With 'Workhorse'

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — A minister, forced to give up his pastoral duties because of ill health, now is a farmer.

Louis Klotzbach, 40, had been serving the Evangelical United Brethren Church at Zearing, Iowa, four years when ill health in the spring of 1963 caused him to give up his pastorate.

He first moved his wife and six children to a farm near Galesville. He soon found it was too small for him to make a comfortable living, so they came to the McKivergin estate 193-acre farm three miles southwest of Blair the following November.

AGRICULTURE was not entirely new to Klotzbach, who had worked on farms before but for Mrs. Klotzbach, it was a new venture. Her home was originally Harrisburg, Pa. a city of 92,000.

Klotzbach said his wife has learned to drive the tractor. "She helped me put up the crops this summer," he added.

He has been back in the pulpit since moving here. He preached in the Whitehall and

"It takes a lot of cash to get started," Klotzbach said. "I have spent between $16,000 and $17,000."

They also raise hogs. "We like it here," Mrs. Klotzbach said. "It is quiet and peaceful. We are far enough from the highway to have some privacy and still not feel secluded."

"I finished my fall plowing early and then I joined the loafer's association," Klotzbach said.

The congregation at Zearing had a membership of 265.

KLOTZBACH was born and raised in north central Iowa. He met his wife while attending Bible college at Fort Wayne, Ind. He had his first congregation there, later serving at Chetek, Wis.

The Klotzbachs have three sons and three daughters. David, Canny, Mark and Becky are attending Blair Elementary School. Debbie is a freshman and Janiece is in kindergarten. They have a dog and four cats for pets. The boys help with chores. The children attend Sunday school at Whitehall.

Advent Candles Being Lighted At Ettrick Church

ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Advent candles are being lighted each Sunday at Living Hope Lutheran Church.

The first candle, the candle of prophecy, was lighted Nov. 29, and Sunday the second candle, the candle of Bethlehem, will be lighted. On the following two Sundays the candle of the shepherds and the candle of the angels will be lighted.

Luther Leaguers will decorate the church and trim the trees Sunday at 4 p.m. A pizza supper will follow. Trees will be placed in the new fellowship hall, and outside the hall, between the new building and church.

Thursday at 8 p.m. the LCW family Christmas program, "The Music of Christmas," will be presented. Music will be by the choirs, soloists, the brass sextet, groups and the congregation. Lunch will be served.

Dec. 13 the senior choir will present a service for the residents of Bethany Home, La Crosse, and will provide a luncheon. The service will begin at 1:30 p.m.

MONDOVI CONFERENCE
BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Pastors of the Mondovi Conference, Northern Wisconsin District, American Lutheran Church, and their wives will meet Tuesday at Zion Lutheran Church Blair. The Rev. and Mrs. L. H. Jacobson will be hosts.

FRENCH CREEK TRIP
ETTRICK, Wis. (Special) — Members of French Creek Lutheran senior choir plan a bus trip to Decorah, Iowa, Dec. 12 to hear "The Messiah" presented by Luther College choruses and orchestra. Luther Leaguers at Living Hope Church will have a pizza supper Sunday after trimming the Christmas tree.

St. Matthew's New Parsonage

The basement of St. Matthew's Lutheran School is now serving as the temporary parsonage for the church's pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Mennicke.

The old parsonage at 717 W. Broadway was sold to James Soderberg Oct. 1 and a new parsonage will be constructed in the spring at 710 W. Wabasha St., four lots east of the church. Pastor Mennicke said the building committee is drawing up plans for the new parsonage now.

Speaker at Houston

HOUSTON, Minn. — Dr. W. Robert Smith, chairman of the philosophy department, Bethel College, St. Paul, will be guest speaker Saturday and Sunday at Houston Baptist Church. Dr. Smith, who has preached extensively in Europe, South America and Alaska, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Saturday and at 9:45 and 11 a.m. and 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Sunday. The public is invited.

Salvation Army Reaches Quarter Mark in Campaign

The Salvation Army's Christmas fund has reached $246.56, nearly one-fourth of its $1,200 goal, Supply LaVona Clabaugh said.

A total of $208 has been received from the letter appeal while $38.56 has been collected by the kettles.

Salvation Army members will man the kettles in the downtown area until Christmas.

Auxiliary Bishop To Speak at Central Lutheran

The Most Rev. George H. Speltz, auxiliary bishop of the Winona Diocese, will be guest speaker at the Young Adult Group meeting at Central Lutheran Church at 8 p.m. Sunday in the parish house. He will discuss the Vatican Council.

The meeting will get underway at 7 p.m. when the newly formed organization will elect its officers.

Bad Weather Over Much of Nation Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Stormy weather, with snow, sleet, rain and strong winds, swept nearly all sections of the nation today, continuing the climatic pattern of the past several days.

Below zero cold again stung northern Midwest states. It was 19 below in North Dakota.

The snow, sleet and gusty winds raked broad areas from New England and northern New York State into Idaho.

Driving conditions in most of the states hit by snow and sleet were hazardous and warnings were issued by Weather Bureau. The bureau also posted heavy snow warnings in Midwest areas, already hit by falls up to a half foot or more this week.

The heaviest snow fell in the central part of the nation covering areas in Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Iowa, with warnings of heavy amounts in northern sections of Illinois and Indiana and the southern third of Lower Michigan.

A wind-blown snowstorm whipped south central areas Thursday, dumping nearly a foot of snow in Englewood and Elkhart, Kan., and Guymon, Okla. Rain and sleet slickened streets and highways southeast of the snow zone.

More than five inches of rain drenched Tallahassee Fla., in a six-hour period. Fairly heavy rain doused wide areas in the Lower Mississippi and Lower Ohio Valleys.

CRASH NEAR MAZEPPA

WABASHA, Minn. (Special) — Icy roads were blamed for a head-on collision of two cars Thursday about 10:15 a.m., six miles east of Mazeppa on CSAH 71. Two Mazeppa drivers, Robert J. Hoels, 21, and Mrs. Laurel Kay Von Essen, 22, were involved. Mrs. Von Essen was treated for facial cuts and broken teeth by a Mazeppa physician. Each car had an estimated $600 damage, according to Wabasha County sheriff's deputies.

DEAR ABBY:

Time to Change Tactics, Lady

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: If they rented out "lathers" for special occasions, I would be their best customer. Every time my boys need their father, he's somewhere else. Our youngest son played first base with the Little League last summer and his father didn't come to see him play once! Now it's football season and one of the boys plays in the band and the other one is on the team, and every time they ask their father to go to a game, he's too tired. But let one of his friends call him up and he finds the strength to go with them. Frankly, I am getting sick and tired of being the only mother there. One of the kids asked our boys if they HAD a father. I have yelled at him, scolded, cussed him out, threatened and shamed him, but I still can't get him to go. Any suggestions?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Try a little tenderness. You've tried everything else, and you've nothing to lose.

DEAR ABBY: My wife is expecting her fifth baby and, of course, we have been telling our friends the news. Our other children are 17, 15, 12, and 9. We are amazed at how many people ask us, "Was this one planned?" We consider this none of their business, but we don't know of an answer to put them in their places. Have you any suggestions?

EXPECTANT FATHER

DEAR FATHER: "Reply, "If you'll forgive my rudeness for ignoring your question, I'll forgive your rudeness for having asked it."

DEAR ABBY: I have two daughters in their teens, just starting to date. What worries me is their going in cars with boys. How can a mother find out what kind of a driver a boy is without embarrassing him? I have forbidden my girls to go out with some boys because of the way they drive. But what about the boys I never meet until they come for a date? I worry myself sick until the girls get home safely from a date. Don't say, "Ask your daughter," because if she likes a boy she isn't going to say anything against him.

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: There is no way to find out what kind of a driver a boy is unless you have seen him drive, or his reputation for driving has preceded him. Tell your teen-age daughters that they risk defacing, crippling injury or death when they accept dates with dangerous drivers. And if they do not get the message, your alternative is prayer.

DEAR ABBY: My fiancé is about two inches shorter than I am. We have never discussed the difference in height, but I have always worn flats when we were together, which made us about the same height. We are now making plans for our wedding. I would like to wear high heels, which would make me taller than he, so I asked him if he minded wearing elevated shoes just for the wedding. He said YES, he minded very much, and if I wanted him to be taller than I, I should wear flats. Will you tell me what is the right way to settle this?

TALL GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Since you have always worn flats with him in the past, wear them for your wedding.

Cease Fire, Ringo Fans

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — The Wisconsin State Journal, Madison's morning newspaper, had a story on its front page Thursday inviting telephone calls if readers were interested in the condition of Ringo Starr after his tonsil operation.

Today, the newspaper proclaimed, "Cease fire, Ringo fans: we give up."

A log showed 1,040 calls up to 1 a.m. today.

The newspaper promised to publish a daily story on the Beale member's recuperation.

Most Badger Lakes, Rivers Frozen Over

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — All but the larger lakes and rivers in northern Wisconsin are frozen over, Marvin W. Burley, state climatologist, reported Thursday. The small lakes and streams started to take on their ice covers shortly after Nov. 15, Burley noted.

The official summary of November weather showed that during the first half average temperatures in the state were 12.15 degrees above normal, while during the last half they ranged from 4.6 degrees below normal.

Precipitation in November was variable but near normal in most sections, Burley said. Southwestern counties received the smallest totals. Fields in a 50-mile wide band stretching from Eau Claire to Green Bay were too wet to work most of the month.

Snowfall during November ranged from 3.4 inches in the south to 12 inches in the north. Snow cover on the last day was limited to the northern half, starting with a trace in central counties and increasing to more than 10 inches in the north central section.

U.S. Economy Doing Fine, Heller Says

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The U.S. economy is doing fine and should continue to improve in 1965, says Dr. Walter W. Heller, now back at his professorial job after four years as the top economic adviser to Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

The slender, 6-foot-4 Heller, greying at 49 but with a face still boyish, put his long legs atop his desk in the University of Minnesota economics department and reflected about his career in an interview.

His tenure as chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers was "an enormously satisfying job," he said.

"I have had the great fortune of combining economics with government service," said Heller. "Mine was the greatest opportunity in the world to apply economics to the government. Those four years were the most rewarding in my career."

From the high councils and black tie society of Washington, Heller moves to a modest office in a 12-story skyscraper on the sprawling campus of one of the nation's largest universities. To begin with, he will teach one undergraduate class a week — a lecture to about 1,000 introductory economics students, largely sophomores.

"I will try to get across to them the excitement, the fascination and the fun of economics," he said. "I will try to dispel the idea that economics is a dismal science."

This man who played a leading role in developing the federal $11.5 billion tax cut program said the nation's economy should continue to expand in 1965. If there are no new policies or programs, the rate of growth may be a bit slower than it was this year.

On the other hand, Heller thinks it is quite possible the expansion will continue at the same clip as this year, if policies he expects President Johnson to propose are accepted. These include an excise tax cut, increased governmental expenditures and various stimulative fiscal measures.

Heller resisted urgings that he remain in his Washington post. He left for "personal considerations," which include his love of teaching and the fact his faculty position allows time for writing, speeches and some consulting work.

Also, Heller found his $20,000 government pay inadequate for the demands of the position. At Minnesota he receives $21,500 through a Ford Foundation faculty fellowship plus $5,000 from the university itself.

Man Gets 90 Days for Tame Deer Slaying

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — John Kier, 24, Duluth, was sentenced to 90 days in the workhouse today after pleading guilty to participation in a tame deer slaying.

Sentenced earlier was Clifton M. LaDuke, 23, Minneapolis, who drew a five-year prison term, to be served at the same time as a five-year sentence for attempted theft by check which had been imposed before the deer slaying.

The deer was killed and butchered at a Minneapolis brewery firm's game park. Kier's sentence was pronounced by District Judge Donald T. Barbeau.

Another Taconite Plant Will Be Built in State

ST. PAUL — Plans for construction of another taconite plant on Minnesota's Mesabi Range were announced Thursday by the Hanna Mining Co. and National Steel Corp.

The plant, with capacity of 2.4 million tons of pellets annually, will be built near Keewatin, about 10 miles west of Hibbing.

It is the second plant announcement involving Hanna since passage of the constitutional amendment on taconite taxes by Minnesota voters Nov. 3. In addition, the U. S. Steel Corp. is preparing for construction of a plant because of the amendment's passage and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. is looking over a plant site.

The facility near Keewatin will be known as the National Steel Pellet Co., according to Paul H. Carnahan, National Steel chairman and chief executive officer. National Steel will own 85 percent of the company. Hanna will own the balance and manage the operation.

The plant will cost more than 50 million dollars and will employ 400 men, it was estimated. Magnetic taconite will be processed in the plant, which will consist of a complex of

Town Officers Fillmore Co. Hear Educator

WYKOFF, Minn. — More than 175 county township officers and their wives, representing 14 of the 25 townships in Fillmore County, attended the annual township banquet at the public school here Thursday.

Dean Turner, St. Paul, a native of Fillmore County, now a specialist in education at the University of Minnesota agriculture school, said progress has three prerequisites.

It requires people who are alert, creative, enthusiastic, well informed and anxious to have something better. It involves ideas which must be created and then people plus their ideas and their decisions to mean action.

Turner said from 1950 to 1960 the national farm population dropped 7 percent while in Fillmore County it dropped only 3 percent. It's time now to study the migrating population problem, he said.

5-Year Farm Census Started

The rural census currently under way is expected to be completed by Dec. 18.

There are nine enumerators in Winona County stopping at all the farms to pick up the completed census forms. The agricultural census is taken every five years with the years ending in "4" and "9".

Enumerators in the county are: Stanley Decker, St. Charles, Whitewater and Elba townships; Mrs. David Clark, Mount Vernon and Norton townships; Mrs. Jean Wamhoff, Minnesota City, Rollingstone and Hilldale townships; Mrs. Wesley Randall, Lewiston, Utica and Fremont townships; Mrs. Donald Sinn, St. Charles and Saratoga townships;

Mrs. Norma McNally, Houston, Pleasant Hill and Homer townships; Mrs. Elizabeth Berger, Winona Rt. 1, Warren and Hart townships; Mrs. Helen Stoeck, Dakota Rt. 1, New Hartford and New Richmond townships; and Mrs. Myrna Jordahl, Rushford Rt. 1, Wisconsin and Wilson townships.

Each enumerator has between 100 and 250 farmers to see. Leaders for the county are Mrs. Jyles Schultz, Caledonia, and Darrell Miller, Pine Island.

4-H'er of Week

DURAND, Wis. — One of Pepin County's top 4-H'ers is Kathy Scott, a 17-year-old senior at Durand High School.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scott, Kathy is a member of the Ever Happy 4-H Club and has been in foods and nutrition projects seven years.

She has been active in sewing five years; gardening, home grounds improvement, song bird, and junior leadership, two years, and photography and food preservation, one year.

In addition she has won the 4-H Key award, the conservation award; dress revue awards; speech awards, county awards, district awards, was a county delegate to State 4-H Club Week, received a trip to Washington, D.C., and won a leadership award.

Kathy has been vice president of her club and is treasurer of the county's junior leadership organization. Her future plans include college with a major in elementary education and a minor in art.

At high school she has been active in FHA, chorus, GAA, forensics and the Pep Club.

Minnesota Price Received Index Up Point Over '63

ST. PAUL, Minn. — The index of prices received by Minnesota farmers in mid-November at 77 percent is 1 point below a month earlier but 1 point above a year ago, according to the Crop and Livestock Reporting Service of the Minnesota and U. S. Departments of Agriculture.

Compared with a month earlier, crop prices averaged 2 points higher, livestock prices were down 5 points, while dairy product and poultry prices showed little change. Except for poultry, prices by groups were higher this year than a year earlier.

Slightly lower corn, oats and rye prices than a month earlier were offset by higher prices for most other crops. Wheat was up 3 cents per bushel from mid-October, 2 cents for barley, 8 cents for flaxseed, 5 cents for soybeans, and $1 per hundredweight for potatoes while hay showed a slight increase. However, when compared with mid-November of last year prices are lower by: 52 cents for wheat, 14 cents for rye, 7 cents for soybeans, and 1 cent for oats. There were several with higher prices including corn 1 cent, barley 3 cents, flaxseed 18 cents, potatoes $1.70 per hundredweight, and hay up 50 cents per ton.

Livestock price changes from mid-October were increases of $2 per hundredweight for calves and 50 cents for lambs. Offsetting these were declines of 90 cents per hundred for hogs, $1.50 for cattle and 70 cents for sheep. Compared with a year ago prices are lower for calves of $1 and sheep 20 cents, but higher prices for cattle of 30 cents, and lambs $1.50 while the same price is reported for hogs.

Whole milk prices averaged $3.45 in November or practically the same as last month, but 14 cents higher than a year earlier. Turkey prices averaged 20 cents in mid-November, the same as October but 3 cents below a year earlier. Farm chicken prices improved slightly from mid-October to November but were slightly lower than last year. Egg prices averaged 55 1/2 cents in mid-November or the same as a month earlier but 1.2 cents per dozen lower than a year earlier.

Hardies Creek Forest Day Program Set

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — Plans have been completed for the Timber Harvest Field Day at Hardies Creek Forest Dec. 11, according to Trempealeau County Agent Peter Bieri, chairman of the event. The forest is about three miles east of Galesville.

The program will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 3 p.m. It is expected that there will be some heavy equipment demonstrations after that time. American Lutheran Church Women will serve a noon lunch at the church.

The program will begin with a history of the stand given by Harold Schultz, research forester with the Forest Research Center, Rhinelander, and Eric Jensen, WCD district forester, La Crosse.

Two Wisconsin Conservation District foresters, Henry Anderson of Trempealeau County and Robert Roach of Vernon County, will speak on timber stand improvement. Timber harvest discussions will be led by Gordon Cunningham, extension forester, College of Agriculture, Madison, and Jensen.

Skidding demonstrations will be given by local timber operators, with WCD forester Edwin Godel of Buffalo County explaining them. They will include horse skidding, tractor skidding with 3-point hitch, and tractor skidding with arch.

Anderson will have charge of the logging demonstrations which will include front end, boom, winch and cable loading. In the afternoon, a representative of Employers Mutual of Wausau will discuss woods safety.

Shrubs Available In Wisconsin

LA CROSSE, Wis. — Game food and cover shrubs can be ordered by farmers through the La Crosse office of the Wisconsin Conservation Department.

Silky dogwood, ninebark and multi-flora rose are offered for improving wild life. They cannot be used for landscaping or ornamental purposes and cannot be planted in cities, villages or platted subdivisions.

Public hunting ground lessors and youth groups can obtain them free of charge. All others must pay $10 a thousand for the rose shrubs and $20 a thousand for the other varieties. Application forms can be obtained from Raymond E. Kyrö, State Office Building, La Crosse.

43.4 Tops DHIA In Wabasha Co.

WABASHA, Minn. — Top herd in September in the Wabasha County DHIA was owned by Harlan Siewert, Zumbro Falls, Central Unit. His herd of 39 registered Holsteins averaged 43.4 pounds of butterfat.

High cow in the county was owned by Kenneth Steffen, Plainview, South Unit. His No. 15, a grade Holstein, produced 134.6 pounds of butterfat.

Top herds in the other four units in terms of average butterfat production: Fritz Sprenger, Zumbro Falls, North Unit, 37.4; Francis Schneider, Plainview, South Unit, 41.6; W. C. Drysdale, Wabasha, Unit 4, 40.3; and Arthur Schultz Sr., & Jr., Plainview, Unit 5, 39.7.

Nearly Million In 11 States Get Donated Food

CHICAGO — Approximately 945,000 needy persons, within 11 Midwest states, received donated foods from the U. S. Department of Agriculture during September.

This is an increase of around 6,000 persons from August, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service's Food Distribution Division.

Five Midwest states reported increased participation while a similar number reported declines, and one was unchanged. Nebraska recorded the largest advance of any state in the nation. Participation rose from 1,910 to 16,289 following admission of Douglas County (Omaha) into the program. Indiana also reported a large increase, around 6,000, as several townships re-entered the program following the usual practice of

Winona, Area Men to Speak At Convention

Three members of the Winona Area Vocational Technical School staff and a Lewiston man will take part in programs of the national conventions of the National Vo-Ag Teachers Association and the American Vocational Association to be held concurrently at Minneapolis starting Saturday.

John Januschka, Winona adult vo-ag instructor, and Robert L. Mohler, superintendent of Lewiston schools, will be members of a panel discussing "Young Farmer Opportunity Programs" Tuesday.

Thomas W. Raine, Winona Area Vocational Technical School director, will address the trade and industrial education section on the topic, "Coordinating the Services of Vocational Programs and the Employment Service" Thursday.

Harry Peirce, Winona vo-ag teacher and president of the Minnesota Vo-Ag Instructors Association, will serve as a host in several capacities at the teachers convention. Mr. and Mrs. Peirce will co-host a dinner for the executive committee of NVATA Thursday and they also will be hosts at a NVATA reception Sunday afternoon for the vo-ag teachers and their wives.

Peirce also will appear on the program at the NVATA awards breakfast and the afternoon program Wednesday.

discontinuing it for the summer months. Illinois, Iowa, and North Dakota were the other states reporting increases.

Ohio and Missouri reported reduced participation of about 7,000 persons in each state, and South Dakota declined about 6,000 persons. Michigan and Wisconsin reported small declines. Minnesota's participation remained about the same.

Nationally, the number of persons receiving donated commodities was around 5.1 million. This is the third consecutive month that national participation has approximated this number. However, it is about 100,000 less than in September 1963.

The commodities distributed included: Dry milk, rice, beans, flour, lard, cheese, rolled wheat, peanut butter, butter, corn meal, dry eggs, chopped meat, canned beef, grits and bulgur.

How Much Feed Can You Get Into a Steer?

CHICAGO — How much feed can you get into a steer, a cow or a sheep? That's an important question in this day of high-powered feeding when animals are pushed for more production every year.

Many feeders believe that feed intake is limited by the size of an animal's rumen, but University of Wisconsin dairy scientists say it isn't necessarily so. On high energy rations a ruminant may be able to get enough energy before the rumen is full.

That's what M. J. Montgomery told the American Society of Animal Science at their annual meeting in Chicago.

He fed only dehydrated alfalfa meal in pellets to one group of lambs. Three other lots were fed 30 percent alfalfa and 20 percent corn, 60 percent alfalfa and 40 percent corn, and 40 percent alfalfa and 60 percent corn.

With more corn in the ration the lambs ate less feed. On alfalfa alone they ate 5 1/2 pounds of dry feed per day. Lambs on 40 percent alfalfa and 60 percent corn ate 3 1/2 pounds of feed daily — 2 pounds less per animal.

But lambs on all the different rations gained the same — 2 1/2 pounds daily — and carcasses graded out average choice with about the same thickness of fat over the loin eye and the rib. Montgomery said the experiment indicates that a cow or sheep will adjust its food intake to its energy needs if the rumen doesn't limit consumption.

High school seniors who are 4-H members and are planning to enroll in college next fall should investigate the possibility of getting scholarships, advises MARVIN LEE, assistant Wabasha County agent. Lee says many scholarships are available to Minnesota 4-H'ers who have an interest in agriculture, forestry or home economics. Four-H'ers should contact their extension office for full information.

Area 4-H'ers who will enter the radio speaking contest have a rough subject this year as the subject for the senior division is "What Does the Separation of Church and State Mean to Me." There are four other subjects dealing with religion and state topics they may choose from.

Look for lower egg and turkey prices, says the USDA. Agriculture experts predict increased production for both in 1965. Egg prices are now low without getting any lower. A total of 250 county extension agents from the 91 extension offices in the state will attend the Cooperative Extension Service at the St. Paul Campus of the University of Minnesota Tuesday through Friday of next week.

Southeastern Minnesota's 1964 American Dairy Association regional business meeting will be held at 8 p.m. next Thursday at Rochester's Kahler Hotel. All dairy farmers are urged to attend. Area counties in the region include Winona, Wabasha, Fillmore and Houston. KAREN BRACKEN, Princess Kay of the Milky Way . . . CYRIL MYREN, Nelson, Wis., was one of 24 Wisconsin dairy project 4-H'ers attending the 4-H dairy convention in Chicago this week. Also attending the convention is WARREN SYLLING, 21, Caledonia, who captured top honors during the past year with his dairy project. Only 7,049,000 persons were at work on the nation's farms during the week of Oct. 18-24, says the USDA. This was a 7 percent drop for all workers and a 10 percent decline for hired workers as compared with the same period one year ago.

Slow down and profit . . . By shifting down from third gear to second, farmers can earn $3 per acre when picking corn, say University of Illinois agriculture engineers. The earnings are in the form of savings realized through reduced picker losses at the slower speed. However, at the slower speed in second gear, an extra hour would be required each day to harvest nine acres. But for that hour, the farmer would be earning $27, say the engineers.

Prices for milk in Wisconsin sold to cheese factories in September averaged $3.42 a hundredweight — the highest price for the month since 1960. The fertilizer value of a year's manure from one dairy cow is worth $30.

Are You Sure You Want To Cut Brush on Fences?

MADISON, Wis. — Late fall traditionally finds many farmers sharpening axes and saws for the annual brush removal chore along fencerows and woodlands. But before you begin a full-scale fence and woods clean-up campaign, consider first the extensive wildlife values these areas have, says Robert Ellarson, University of Wisconsin wildlife management specialist.

Fencerows with thick shrubbery are efficient snowbreaks, depositing and holding needed moisture on the adjacent fields for next spring's thaw. Tall shrubbery also makes a good windbreak and reduces wind erosion, Ellarson says.

Wildlife food abounds in these fencerows. Hazelnut, blackberry, raspberry, dogwood and viburnum all provide wild fruits and support good populations of songbirds, game birds and small animals. Some of these berries and fruits also make excellent jams and jellies.

CUT AND trimmed bitter-sweet vines that flourish in these shrub rows make attractive decoration for the home during the winter. Bittersweet fruits generally find a ready market in most stores, the wildlife specialist says.

A winter walk along these shrub choked fencerows will reveal an abundant population of wildlife. Songbirds, rabbits, ruffed grouse, and quail all find food, shelter and safety beneath the protective shrubbery when cold winds blow.

Predators and prey of all kinds use fencerows as travel lanes. Game birds such as grouse and pheasants move here, feeding as they travel. Should a fox or owl threaten, the waiting cover becomes a hidden avenue of escape.

Many people mistakenly believe that shrub fencerows are nothing but weed gardens. They are wrong, because a solid stand of shrubs will have fewer weeds than an open fencerow, Ellarson says. Weeds cannot live in the shaded areas under dense shrubbery.

woodlot can be even more beneficial than the growing in fencerows. Shrubbery along woodlands not only provides cover and food for wildlife, but it also is beneficial to trees growing in the lot. Shrubbery protects woodlands against drying winds. It gives shade to border trees, keeping the soil cool and moist for good tree growth, Ellarson says.

HE OFFERS THESE wildlife benefitting suggestions to woodland owners practicing Timber Stand Improvement (TSI). Preserve two or more squirrel den trees per acre if possible. Squirrels can live in leaf nests, but they prefer dens because they are much safer. Woodpeckers, wood ducks, raccoons, barred owls and screech owls also call these den trees their winter home. Owls protect tree seedlings and food producing brush by reducing mouse population in wooded lands.

Leave as many open grown trees as you can near the edge of the woods even though they don't have much useful lumber in their trunks, Ellarson says. These spreading, crooked branched oaks, hickories, walnut and black cherry trees get enough light to produce large crops of wildlife food.

Openings within the forest canopy provide areas that will also produce large amounts of food for wild animals, Ellarson says. Openings created by cutting trees allows sunlight to reach the forest floor and stimulates a heavy shrub growth. Shrubs can't grow unless they have lots of sunlight.

And when you start cutting trees, clean up the area and help rabbit populations by piling the trimmings. Brushpiles are especially effective when they're within 20 yards of the wood's edge, Ellarson points out. Criss-cross several large waste logs at the bottom of the pile for hiding space. Then pile small branches and twigs over the logs making a dense cover.

Wisconsin Starts Electronic Farm Record System

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special) — A farm record system that is computed by electronic data processing machines will be available to Trempealeau County farmers in 1965, according to Ed Ausderau, farm management agent.

This electronic record system was developed by the University of Wisconsin and has been tested in a series of pilot programs in various parts of the state since 1962.

THE ELECTRONIC records provide a complete, accurate and detailed summary of the farm business month by month, including totals to date. At the end of the year a complete analysis of the size and efficiency of the farm business is provided, along with complete income tax information, reports Ausderau. The speed of the computers enables them to handle analysis problems that were not possible by hand methods.

The increasing size and complexity of the farm business, the narrower margins of profit, and the more complex tax computations make electronic farm records necessary, says Ausderau. The computer is the newest "hired" hand on many modern farms, he points out.

Farm management records are the latest in a series of farm jobs that computers have taken over in Trempealeau County. All dairy herd improvement records and soil test reports already are being computed by the same record service that will process the farm records.

A limited number of farm people will be enrolled in the new record program in 1965 and additional farm families are expected to enter each year thereafter, Ausderau says.

The Blair FFA president, Gerry Leque, conducted the opening ceremony. Approximately 85 students, parents and guests attended. David Quarne, 1960 graduate of Blair High School told of his trip to Kansas City to receive the American Farmer degree.

David's father, Arnold Quarne received the Honorary Chapter Farmer Award. Arnold was the first president of the Blair FFA chapter and also holds the Wisconsin Farmer degree.

William Pickernig, former Blair High School agriculture instructor, now employed at the First National Bank of Chippewa Falls, was presented with the outstanding service citation for his three years of work as instructor and FFA adviser here.

David Schaefer, FFA adviser and agriculture instructor, presented the awards.

Let's Get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA

From Outdoors to Indoors

AS we go into December, this is a good time to consider the growing of house plants in the home, or as it is sometimes called, indoor gardening.

For ages past flowers have been grown indoors for beauty and the edification of the household. Probably the first book on indoor gardening in this country was one published about 1861. Since then much has been written in books and magazines about growing plants in the home. A number of the varieties of plants favored in the early days are still popular. Some of these are begonias, cacti, ivy, fuchsia and geraniums.

There seems to be nothing that adds so much brightness and cheer to the home as flowers. During the outdoor growing season this addition to the beauty of the home can be provided by cut flowers from the garden, but throughout the winter months the main dependence is upon house plants, supplemented occasionally by flowers from the florist.

The use of artificial flowers for indoor decoration and color is becoming rather widespread, but they, of course, cannot compare with living and growing forms, regardless of the very close imitations that they may be.

IN SOME homes that we have visited many house plants were in evidence, one in particular having many more than 100 plants of different types and sizes and in varying stages of bud and bloom. In another home African violets along with other varieties were growing luxuriantly under a system of fluorescent lighting. However, the majority of homes may display only a few plants which are appreciated none the less.

It may be said that the gardener becomes a little closer in the relationship to plants when they are cared for close at hand in the home, under varying conditions of air, light and humidity that are not always suitable for best growth. Many of the failures that are met with in growing house plants are undoubtedly due to an unfavorable environment.

Crickets' chirps have surprising carrying power. One cricket barely an inch long sounds a note audible for almost a mile.

NOW, LET us look at some of the more common varieties of plants for indoor culture. The African violet is probably the favorite at the present time. Its popularity is largely due to the fact that it blooms profusely, is easy to grow and propagate, will withstand high house temperatures and will even do well in a north light.

Three kinds of plants that are easy to grow and are popular today as they were in the past are the ivy, geranium and various varieties of begonias. These plants supply both foliage and color that are so appreciated during the winter season and at the same time are easy to propagate.

Since the light in different homes varies so much, there are some plants that will do better than others. Some of the varieties that will endure winter sun and do well in sunny windows are some of the ferns, cacti, geraniums, ivy, shrimp plant, crown-of-thorns, cyclamen, fuchsia, coleus, along

Hearings Slated On Grading Dairy Cattle

MADISON, Wis. — Four hearings to consider the adoption of rules relating to dairy cattle grading have been scheduled by the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

The first will be Dec. 11 at 1:30 p.m. in the agriculture Board Room, Hill Farms State Office Building, Madison.

Other hearings: Dec. 16, Outagamie County Bank, Appleton; Dec. 17, courthouse, Barron; Dec. 18, courthouse, Sparta. All hearings will begin at 1:30 p.m.

A petition for consideration of the dairy cattle grading program was submitted by a group of dairy cattle leaders earlier this year. The adoption of the rules is intended to provide official uniform, standards and grade terminology for dairy herd replacements.

Grades proposed are supreme, preferred, standard, utility and undergrade. The grading program would be under the supervision of the State Department of Agriculture. A fee for grading services, it is felt, will self finance the program.

ADA Economist To Demonstrate At Fountain City

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. — Miss Jane Comings, home economist of the American Dairy Association, will demonstrate the use of cheeses at the annual Buffalo County homemakers Holiday Fair Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at the Fountain City Auditorium.

Members of the homemakers clubs are to bring foods, sewing and handwork to the fair to be used for the auction. Mrs. Albert Benusa, Waumandee, is chairman.

Beaulieu Makes Promise: St. Mary's to Do All Right

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Andre Beaulieu might not be a Noah Webster when it comes to the American-revised English language, but it's a safe bet he does as well as most.

And when it comes to wielding a hockey stick, expounding in French and conversing in English — for those not fortunate enough to understand one of the world's most romantic tongues — even old Noah has to take a back seat. For the likeable 24-year-old senior from Shawinigan, Quebec, has few peers.

That's why it is a safe bet Keith Hanzel's talented St. Mary's hockey team will do all right this year.

Beaulieu, one of collegiate hockey's leading scorers for the past three seasons and the MIAC's most valuable performer a year ago when the Redmen were sweeping to the title with a 10-0 record, made a promise as team captain Thursday.

Outwardly calm, but perhaps boiling inside thanks to several stories in the University of Wisconsin Daily Cardinal, Beaulieu vowed the Redmen would have a good year — especially at Wisconsin in tonight's and Saturday's season openers.

"We'll do all right," said Beaulieu, glaring at his teammates with a look that could only mean: "We'll do all right."

Clippings of the "Daily Cardinal" displayed in the main lobby of St. Mary's Hall said, among other things, that St. Mary's had run up the scores in last year's 13-6 and 12-2 victories and that the predominantly-Canadian team had several players who couldn't speak English.

Since the statements were falsehoods, you can bet they will add fuel to the psychological fire for the weekend set.

The clippings, plus an anonymous letter stating that this year's scores would favor the Badgers by 5-2 and 8-3, should just about set the Redmen mentally.

Physically some things are still doubtful. Don Berrigan, a wing on Beaulieu's line who scored 13 points last year, is still wearing a cast and won't see action. Brian Desbiens, the MIAC's second leading scorer, just had a cast removed and will be at three-quarters speed.

Add to that Hanzel's statement that "we're not looking like last year" and problems spring up.

Explaining his reasoning, Hanzel said: "With our material we want more. We can look better than we have."

It is a foregone conclusion that the Redmen are definite favorites to repeat as league champs.

Because of Berrigan's absence, some adjustments were in order. Bob Magnuson, a defenseman for three years, will join Beaulieu's line at right wing along with Desbiens, up from Dennis Cooney's freshman line of a year ago.

Operating with Cooney, who has moved to left wing, will be Yvon Thibodeau, 6-5 frosh from Sorel, Quebec, at center and Jean Cardin, another freshman from Sorel.

Starting on defense and rotating with Mike Bishop will be Bob Paradise, the best of the MIAC blueline corps, and Tom McCormick.

Jerry Archambeau and freshman Denny Kreibich will form a two-man goalie combo. Also making the trip will be Gordy Tiedeman and Dave Brekken, forwards who will spell Desbiens, Al Versino and John Ulrich.

Following the two-game series with the Badgers, who defeated Macalester 9-3 and 3-2 last weekend, will come the home opener against St. Thomas at Terrace Heights.

Redmen Triumph, Eye Loras Tonight

ANSWER COMES TONIGHT IN LOOP OPENER

Is Difference Great Between Hawks, Tigers?

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

On paper and in pre-season previews, there is no similarity between basketball teams at Albert Lea and Winona High Schools.

However, both have concentrated on defense in workouts this week and both will come into tonight's contest ("B" squad preliminary starts at 6:30 with the varsity skirmish to follow) unbeaten.

Lurking in the background for the Tigers is a chance to upset one of the pre-season conference kingpins. They will roll into Winona after two wins in which they shot 46 and 43 percent from the field — a fact that pleased Buhr as much as his team's defensive play displeased him.

NOT TO BE discounted is Albert Lea's 65-59 victory over Fairmont, a team that knocked off Mankato 85-74 Tuesday. The Scarlets are picked as one of the Big Nine teams to beat.

While Albert Lea has been working to patch the holes in its defense, Winona has been working on how to cope with the Tiger defense.

"They zoned us over there last year," said Hawk Coach John Kenney. "I don't know that they will this year, but we're going to be ready for it."

Perhaps a fair indication that Winona will be looking at a man-to-man defense on the hardcourt battlefield is Buhr's statement that "They've (Winona) got good outside shooting and that's where we're going to have to apply the pressure."

"If they feel we've got the outside shooting, they won't come out in a zone," mused Kenney. "They'll probably pick us up man-for-man and high."

WINONA WILL make no changes in its starting alignment after Friday's 57-45 victory over Mahtomedi.

That means that Bill Squires, 6-5, and Larry Larson, 6-4, will man the double pivot with Tony Kreuzer and Garry Addington on the wings and Don Hazelton in his "quarterback" position, running the attack.

What does Kenney expect from Albert Lea?

"About the same thing as last year," he said. "They like to run their guards around and use a two-man tandem outside the free throw line. Albert Lea has guards Jim Bratvold, 6-0 senior and a second-team all-conference choice last year, and Warren Shurson, 5-11 senior, and forwards Dave Mueller, 6-0 senior, and Ron Holton, 6-0 senior, set for starting roles.

THE CENTER spot has Bill Erickson, 6-2 junior, Darryl Gavle and Kim Kylo, 6-2 senior, fighting for a first-team berth.

John Hegland, who was co-captain the team with Mueller, is out for the season with an ear infection. Kenney, who has examined his second and third teams extensively this week, has special praise for Bob Urness, 6-1½ forward.

"He gives us the spark we need," said the coach. "He might turn into a good 'fireman' for us."

Following tonight's game, the Hawks run into the John Marshall Rockets at Rochester Dec. 11.

Never-Die Cotter To Host Benilde

Cotter High School's basketball team demonstrated something to Coach John Nett in its opening game victory — the never-say-die spirit that can turn an apparent defeat into a win.

Rallying in the face of adversity, Cotter stormed from a 51-43 deficit with just over 10 minutes remaining to nip Mahtomedi 52-51 on Dave Pelowski's tip with 15 seconds to play.

"They really showed us something in that one," said Nett. "We know they aren't going to quit. When you're that far down with a few minutes to play and then come back and seem to win it with ease, you can't help but be happy."

THE SOMBER tones of reality this week call to mind the fact that the Ramblers must fight St. Louis Park Benilde, perennially one of the state's top parochial quintets, at St. Stan's Saturday night in an 8 o'clock game.

Nett, speaking calmly, mused that "it probably will be a pretty good test."

While information on Benilde hasn't filtered this far south, Nett does know they have six back from the team that handed the Ramblers one of two regular season losses a year ago. The score in that game was 57-51.

Nett will get a look at Benilde before the Knights' appearance here Saturday. Rochester Lourdes will host the club Friday.

"I REALIZE there isn't much you can do with no practices after we see them," said Nett. "But at least I'll have some kind of idea of what to expect."

At Cotter, the injuries have mended, everyone — assuming that Jim Holmay, reserve guard, is back in school after a midweek sick spell — health and the team raring to go.

"They've all been at practice this week," said Nett. "Finally, we've had a chance to work with all of them."

Although Nett admitted that several starting combinations have been occupying his attention, the group that opens Saturday will be much the same five that started against Mahtomedi.

"With the exception of (Dan) Pelowski who'll probably take

Sausser Sparks 72-65 Victory

By ROLLIE WUSSOW
Daily News Sports Writer

St. Mary's College used a variety of tricks and surprises in its defensive attack against Central State University of Stevens Point Thursday night to post win No. 1 of the season before an enthusiastic throng in the Terrace Heights gym.

Shifting from a man-to-man press to a tight zone defense, then back to a man-to-man, the Redmen held the Pointers in check through the first half of play, then provided much of the same in the second twenty minutes to take a 72-65 verdict.

THE REDMEN used a tight zone most of the first half, forcing the Pointers to do most of their shooting from outside. St. Mary's would have had more than a four point 36-32 halftime lead if it weren't for guard Bill Borchardt's dead-eye gunning from behind the key throughout the period. Borchardt wowed the highly partisan crowd by popping away from afar, hitting five of seven goals before the end of the half.

Doing his share of "wowing" was Redmen guard Jerry Sausser, a 6-1 sophomore who matched Borchardt's 11 first-half points, then came back to spark the Marions in the second half, canning six field goals when St. Mary's needed them most. Sausser finished with 23, high for both teams.

The Redmen, who are now 1-1, meet Loras College at the Terrace Heights gym tonight at 8 p.m.

With 7:47 left in the first half, guard Mike Maloney made a three-point play thanks to a foul by the Pointers' Grant White, which gave the Redmen a 23-22 margin. Borchardt's long jump gave Stevens Point the lead once again, and Maloney and Jerry Lawetzki traded baskets, still giving the Pointers a one point margin.

AT THIS POINT, Sausser squirted through the Point middle to score on a drive, and Rog Pylewski followed with a shot from underneath. From this point, the Redmen never trailed.

Coach Ken Wiltgen's crew came out of the dressing room in a harrassing man-to-man press, which shook up the Pointers. After allowing only a pair of free throws to Wes Zuege, the Redmen rammed home ten quick points, much to the delight of the screaming fans, and found themselves in front by 46-34.

St. Mary's increased its lead to ten- and 12-point spreads, and at one point, when the visitors didn't score a point for nearly five minutes, the Redmen margin was 16 points at 65-49 with five minutes left.

THE POINTERS instigated a rally at this point. Baskets by Lawetzki and Zuege and a pair of free throws by Mike Fortune cut the difference to ten at 65-55, Jim Buffo tallied on a fast break for the Marions before Fortune added two more free throws.

George Huder scored from underneath for St. Mary's, making the score 69-57 with 3:28 left. Then a quick flurry of points by White, Fortune, Borchardt and Zuege cut the difference to four points with 1:17 remaining.

In an attempt to get the ball, Borchardt fouled Dennis Lunden with 50 showing, he dropped the shot, and seconds later Buffo was climbed on by White. Buffo sank both of his tosses to produce the final margin.

Wiltgen was "satisfied" with his squad's performance. "You can't be dissatisfied when you win," was his comment.

Tonight's Loras game will get under way at 8 p.m. Wiltgen is expected to field his same starting lineup, which will include George Valaika, Pylewski, Huder, Maloney and Sausser. Thursday, Wiltgen finished with 14, while Maloney netted 13. Borchardt meshed 18 for Stevens Point; Zuege 14, and Lawetzki, Fortune and White tossed in 11 each.

UCLA Opens Defense of National Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UCLA opens defense of its national collegiate basketball championship at Illinois tonight in a game that headlines the national program.

The contest is expected to provide an answer to just how good the Bruins are without All-America Walt Hazzard who led them through an unbeaten 30-game season a year ago.

Although Harry Combes, Illinois coach, says "we're going to be a good team" Johnny Wooden, UCLA mentor, feels he has the material for another national champion. The Bruins are led by veterans Gail Goodrich and Keith Erickson and Fred Goss, a junior, who didn't play last season. They're favored to make it 31 straight despite opening on the road.

Georgia's 64-61 upset of North Carolina highlighted the comparatively slim national program Thursday on the third night of the new season.

Jimmy Pitts, with 20 points, including three free throws that put the Bulldogs ahead for good at 42-40, helped offset Bill Cunningham's stellar performance for the Tar Heels.

Vanderbilt, ranked No. 6 in The Associated Press preseason poll and favored to win the Southeastern Conference, opened with an easy 78-49 triumph over Rice. The Commodores were the only team in the preseason Top Ten to see action. They showed good balance with five men in double figures led by Roger Schurig with 14.

St. Louis wiped out a 22-7 deficit against Ohio State to whip the Buckeyes 79-70. Boston College got 22 points from John Austin and crushed Dartmouth 104-76. Maryland edged George Washington 83-80, Rhode Island downed Brown 75-65, Florida State took Virginia Military 76-72 and Manhattan overcame Colgate 76-62.

St. Mary's of Winona evened its record at 1-1 by trimming Stevens Point, Wis., State 72-65. Lone loser was Gustavus Adolphus, which withered under a late South Dakota State rally to bow 68-66.

Jon Hagen paced Mankato with 26 points. Lincoln plays at St. Cloud State tonight to top a schedule of six games involving state colleges.

Other contests find Hamline at Wayne, Neb., Loras of Iowa at St. Mary's, St. Olaf at Lawrence, Carleton at Ripon and Belhel of St. Paul at Northwestern, Iowa.

St. Olaf and Carleton open their Midwest Conference seasons.

The official name of the Big Ten or Western Conference is "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives."

St. Norbert and Wisconsin-Milwaukee locked in a double overtime battle Thursday night before the Green Knights came up with one more scoring spur to take a 109-104 victory, their second in as many games in the basketball season.

St. Norbert took a quick five-point lead in the second overtime and finally pulled away after UWM had closed to within two points. UWM has a 1-1 record.

The winners were led by Dick Rankin with 27 points, one more the UWM pace setter Phil Michalovitz.

Can Gophers Win on Road?

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — It takes a decided edge in superiority to win on the road in college basketball these days, and the Minnesota Gophers find out if they've got that edge tonight when they invade Des Moines to battle rugged Drake.

The Bulldogs, co-champions of the high-class Missouri Valley Conference last season, are expected to give the Gophers a much stiffer test than did South Dakota State in last Tuesday's Minnesota opener.

After tonight, the Gophers head back north, stopping off Saturday night in Ames to meet Iowa State.

Drake won its opener, 70-52, over Washburn, while Iowa State bowed 54-50 to State College of Iowa in a surprise.

Drake has size and talent to give the Gophers fits. Minnesota won last year's game 64-51 in Williams Arena here, and is looking for revenge.

The Bulldogs have two starters back, Gene Bogash, a 6-foot-5 forward, and Gene West, a 6-4 guard. Four players alternate at the other three spots — 6-8 sophomore Bob Netolicky, 6-6 center Dave Hansen, and guards Harold Aldridge, 6-3, and Herman Watson, 6-0. Hansen got 15 points to lead Drake against Washburn.

Timberlake, Huarte, Butkus Headline AP All-America

NEW YORK (AP) — John Huarte, Bob Timberlake, Donny Anderson and Gale Sayers comprise the offensive backfield of the 1964 Associated Press All-America football team named today.

Illinois linebacker Dick Butkus, the lone holdover, heads a defense averaging 219 pounds per man on the squad which reflects the wholesale revival of a platoon game this season.

For the first time since 1952 separate units, a 22-man first team, have been selected on the recommendations of the sports writers and broadcasters who made up the eight regional boards. All games through Nov. 28 were taken into account.

Hawk Swimmers Trek to Austin

Winona High swimming coach Lloyd Luke has tabbed 31 swimmers to trek to Austin today for the Winhawks' opening swim meet of the season with the Packers.

Although he didn't say so, Luke probably had trouble deciding just who he was going to pick for the opener, as 117 swimmers — from seventh through 12th grades — are on the roster.

Luke and assistants Jim Gilbert, who handles the "C" squad, and Kip Gilbertson, who is in charge of the "B" squad, have divided up after school hours practically every day in order that their charges may get their feet wet in the Hawk pool.

THE HAWKS will swim in both "A" and "B" competition today.

"I think we have a pretty good chance of making it a good meet," said Luke, who is beginning his 11th season as Hawk swim mentor. "We'll have a few areas where we will be weak, but we have a good chance of taking it."

A year ago, the Hawks finished with a 4-8 dual meet record.

Luke will field practically an all-letterman lineup when the gun sounds for the "A" contest. He will have his greatest strength in the freestyle sprint events, which will probably be composed of Larry Anderson, a junior; Roger Fegre, a senior; Bill Kane, a junior, and Sam Bailey, a senior.

JOHN HOEFT, a senior, and Jim Grant, a junior, will be in the breaststroke event, while sophomore Mark Johnson will man the butterfly.

Junior Tom Sanders will be in the backstroke contest, and Bill Braun, a sophomore, Dean Hille, a junior, and Robert Rydman, another sophomore, will be in the 220 and 440 freestyle.

Non-lettermen Fred Williams, and Bob Staricka, both sophomores, will do the diving for the Hawks. Two other lettermen, Tom Finley, a breaststroker, and Dick Heise, a sprinter, are out with injuries. Finley has a broken leg, and Heise suffered a concussion. Sam Gaustad, another letterman, is also on the squad.

"We have two good relays," said Luke, "and should be good in the freestyle, and fair in the medley, butterfly, sprints and breaststrokes today."

Luke thinks that his Hawks should improve even more as the season progresses.

"WE NEED A stronger backstroker and some strength in the distances," said Luke.

"Dennis Sievers, a ninth grader who will be eligible in January, will definitely help us there. I have a lot of confidence in him."

Sievers is a transfer from St. Matthew's Lutheran School. Meet time tonight is 6:15 p.m. After today, the Hawks rest until next Friday, when they entertain Mankato in its Big Nine home opener at the Winona High pool.

Hawk Matmen Travel To Albert Lea Tonight

Winona, the team Albert Lea Coach Paul Ehrhard tabbed for the Big Nine wrestling title, will get its chance to show the Tigers just how good it is.

New Coach Dave Morocco, who piloted his group to a dual-meet victory over St. Charles before taking the Hawks to the Rochester Invitational last Saturday, travels his team to Albert Lea for a bout on the mats tonight.

Albert Lea, a surprise 27-19 winner over Bloomington in its first test, is led by state champion Gary Neis, a 133 pounder.

In addition, the Tigers have Mark Allen at 95, John Demo at 103, Bob Hatch at 112, Ken Stauch (a stalwart but ineligible last year) at 120, Mike Malepsy at 127, Mike Banashek at 138, Ken Stencil at 145, Bob Severson at 154, Chuck Jean at 165, Tom Countryman at 175 and Bob Posthumus at heavyweight.

For Winona, which lost stalwarts Len Dienger and Al Hazelton to injuries this week, Doug Breza will be at 95, Gary Smith at 103, Earl Kreuzer at 112, Steve Miller at 120, Jim Dotzler at 127, Ron Fugelstad at 133, Larry Pomeroy at 138, John Degaller at 145, Barry Arenz at 154, Pete and Paul Erickson at 165 and 175 and Bob Haeussinger at heavyweight.

Dureske Breezes 681 to Take Third Place in City

Jerry Dureske, consistently among the top 10 average bowlers in the city, went to work on the pins at Westgate Bowl Thursday night.

When he got done, he had climbed into third place on the series list, nosing out John Cierzan's 679 by a pair of pins in the Classic League.

The 681 came on games of 244, 244 and 203 and nearly resulted in Winona's second 700 of the current season (Dick Niemeyer leads the bowling brigade with 704).

Three splits in the final game prevented Dureske from achieving the national honor count.

A salesman for Federal Bakery, Dureske was working this morning and unavailable for comment.

Pozanc Trucking ripped the league's high game with 875 and Dale's Standard pitched 2,858. Ruth's Restaurant nosed out Clark & Clark by two games for the first-half title.

In the Eagles League at Hal-Rod, two honor counts were the order of business. Joe Monahan paced the pack with 231-613 to lead Schlitz Beer to 955-2,772.

HORNETS SET SATURDAY DRILL

The Winona Hornets, operating with a host of new faces and independent of a league, will hold their first practice of the season Saturday at 1 p.m.

The Hornets were suspended from the Southern Minnesota League for a year and will play outside the circuit this season before making an attempt to get back in next year.

Ullman Sparks Wings to 4-2 Win Over Boston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It could be that the Detroit Red Wings, with old pro Norm Ullman showing the way, just may be serious in their bid for the lead in the National Hockey League.

Ullman, in his 10th NHL season, sparked the Wings to a 4-2 victory over hapless Boston Thursday night, increasing Detroit's leading margin to three points and extending their unbeaten string to five straight. Montreal stormed over Toronto 4-2 in the only other game played, moving the Canadiens into a tie with the Leafs for second place, each with 23 points.

New Park Development
Wabasha County has moved forward more rapidly than most counties in the growth of the Hardwood Memorial Forest, due to the tireless work of Willis Kruger, county game warden. At the last meeting of the Wabasha Board of Commissioners a review of progress of recreational developments in the county was presented to the members. Ray C. Young, publisher of the Wabasha Herald, was in attendance. Here is his report of the meeting:

The county commissioners were brought up to date on Hardwood Memorial Forest planning and other conservation projects for the county at their meeting Tuesday. The forest, which includes most of the river bottom lands and hillsides in Southeastern Minnesota, has been promoted to a large extent by Game Warden Willis Kruger and Forester Jerry Murphy.

Murphy discussed 30 to 50 year goals which would result in the acquisition of 35,000 acres of forest lands in Wabasha County at a cost of approximately a million and a half dollars. The state already owns or has options on 1,200 acres and others have been contacted who are willing to sell 2,500 more acres, which means that the goal will be 10 percent realized by the end of 1965.

While these state acquisitions will take lands off the tax rolls, it will provide an added income to local tax bodies when the conservation practices get under way. Much of this land is timbered and when selective cutting begins the income from timber sales will be divided between the county and state and Murphy predicted that revenue will almost double the taxes now being collected on the lands. Already 198,000 seedlings have been planted on 164 acres and it is expected that timber harvests will be selective and continuous. New plantings are scheduled at the rate of 200,000 per year for the next 15 years.

The state plans to expand its forester service in the county, add fire towers, improve wildlife habitat, develop recreation areas for camping, canoe routes, and turn the area into a huge recreational area.

A start has been made with the development of the Kruger Picnic Area south of Wabasha. Expenditures on the park so far have been only $1,050 but with the help of local sportsmen's clubs, Boy Scouts, 4-H and other groups of volunteers, the park has been cleared, trees planted, picnic shelters, toilets and picnic tables placed, a ball diamond built and with little publicity so far, the park had about 4,000 visitors last season.

The park is planned for 7,000 to 9,000 man-days of usage a year and it is expected that the crowded conditions at White-water will bring a sizeable overflow to Kruger Park next year.

Two additional picnic and camping areas will be located and developed further up the Zumbro according to plans now being considered. Murphy also said that plans are being made to open the Zumbro for a canoe route from Mazeppa or Zumbro Falls to the Mississippi and would include camp and access areas about every seven miles (about half a day's journey through the county).

Area Game Biologist Nick Gulden of Rochester also told about plans for future development. He mentioned duck "factories" in Whitewater Park, McCarthy Lake south of Kellogg, the Dumfries bottoms and a fourth near Mazeppa.

It has always been our contention that our area has to develop recreational areas to tap the larger population centers and with our great river, harbors, summer homes, golf course and Hardwood Forest, we're beginning to make progress!

Pack Prepping For Saturday Tilt at Chicago

GREEN BAY (AP)—Baylor end Larry Elkins, the draft choice who got away from the Green Bay Packers, said Thursday night he made the toughest decision of his life.

Elkins, holder of a list of Baylor and Southwest Conference pass catching records, was a first round selection by the Packers in the National Football League draft.

He also was the first round choice of the Houston Oilers in the rival American Football League and signed with them Wednesday. He would neither confirm nor deny that he had signed for a $35,000 bonus and a three-year contract paying $30,000 a year.

"I'd rather not disclose the terms of the contract," Elkins said from New York City.

"This was the toughest decision of my life," said Elkins. "I didn't make up my mind until the last minute. The Packers treated me very fairly. They offered me a very good contract and it's hard to match the benefits in the National Football League. But I couldn't look that far ahead."

While the Packers are giving attention to their draft choices, they also are getting ready for Saturday's game in Chicago with the Bears. The Packers, second in the Western Division, must keep winning to assure themselves of a second straight appearance in the Playoff Bowl in Florida.

Rebels Tangle With State Rival Saturday

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—Mississippi State and Mississippi tough football teams that found the season full of frustrations, will clash here Saturday in a traditional game that erases disappointments for the winner.

Injuries, unexpected weaknesses and bad luck combined to plague both squads much of the season and both are hoping for a victory to compensate for their setbacks.

The annual game, delayed this year to fit into the national television schedule, is expected to draw a capacity crowd of 35,000.

It will be telecast by NBC starting at 2:45 p.m., EST. The game shares top billing with the hurricane-delayed night clash between Sugar Bowl-bound Louisiana State, 7-1-1, and Florida, 6-3, at Baton Rouge, La. LSU will meet Syracuse in the Sugar Bowl.

Louisiana State faces a crippled Florida squad. Florida coach Ray Graves said senior Tom Shannon would start at quarterback in place of ankle-injured Steve Spurrier. Graves said Spurrier would see only limited action.

The LSU-Florida game had been scheduled for Oct. 3 but was postponed because of Hurricane Hilda.

Mississippi, the pre-season choice to win the national collegiate championship, found the going rough early in the year and has a 5-3-1 record.

Only a thumping 30-0 victory over Tennessee three weeks ago preserved the Rebel string of bowl invitations when it won a spot in the Bluebonnet Bowl against Tulsa at Houston Dec. 19.

State, a Cinderella team with a 6-2-2 mark in 1963, had hoped to show even more improvement, but a series of injuries made a walking wounded corps of the team's key players. State will take a 3-6 record into the contest.

A camel has a working life of about 20 years.

SHATTERING STEP
LONDON — A $1,700, 25 by 100 foot window had to be replaced recently in the Pan Am sales office here.

A Pakistani gentleman with ticket troubles came into the office. A counter clerk, realizing his passage back home was on another carrier, told the man:

"Straight out and up Sackville Street, then turn right to Regent."

The gentleman walked straight out — through the window.

Stock Prices Slip Some in Light Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market's advance faded in light trading early this afternoon.

Prices withered from earlier levels but held in the plus column.

The market had advanced Wednesday and Thursday after six days of losses.

Mack Trucks, losing more than two points, hit a new low for the year.

Comsat advanced more than two points.

RCA gained more than a point on the strength of a 10 percent stock dividend and a 10-cent extra dividend.

International Business Machines, announcing plans to sever its new 360 computers several months earlier than originally scheduled, advanced 4 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon had gained .3 to .324; with industrials off .2, rails up .2 and utilities up .5.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up .09 to 870.88.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were higher in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed and Treasuries lower.
